Deepsea Shipping On Both Coasts Tied Up by Strike

750 Engineers, Radio Officers Vote to Walk Out When Talks Fail

VANCOUVER, March 2 (Tuesday) (CP).—The strike of about 750 engineers and radio officers on 150 Canadian deepsea ships on both Atlantic and Pacific coasts began at midnight, Jack Holmes, Dominion president of Canadian Communication Association announced early today.

He said no officers would "sign on or clear except through their association." The walkout would mean a tie-up of Canadian deepsea shipping.

Radio officers and engineers had voted overwhelmingly for strike action following a breakdown in final negotiations with shipowners for a new agreement.

"The shipowners offered us about an 11 per cent pay boost," he said. "But the cost of living has risen almost 25 per cent since our last agreement was signed October, 1946."

About 40 Vancouver freighters will be affected.

Mr. Holmes said officers were asking a basic wage increase of $30 monthly against $25 monthly offered by shipowners.

Shipping officials in Halifax said a shipping strike now would cripple the port of Halifax at a time when it was enjoying the busiest pace of the Winter.

Mr. Marlieu said he expected that members of the Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.), all unlicensed personnel, would not cross officers' picket lines.

Marine officials in Vancouver said such a strike would throttle Canada's merchant marine service. The vessels could not operate without radio officers, they point out, and it was unlikely other unions would cross a radiomen's picket line.

Aggressors in Holy City Receive Stern Warning

JERUSALEM, March 1 (AP)—The British Army said tonight that from now on its troops will use more powerful weapons against Jewish and Arab aggressors in the fighting within the Holy City.

An announcement from the military commander of Jerusalem said:

"Prolonged firing between Arabs and Jews within Jerusalem makes life intolerable for its inhabitants. Such disturbances of the peace will not continue. Force will be used in incident of this kind. The army will, if necessary, use weapons more powerful than those available to Arabs and Jews."

The military statement then added that since in such fighting it is impossible to determine who is the aggressor, "the army will therefore use its weapons impartially against whichever side is firing."

The implication is that British forces previously have generally withheld their fire during Jewish-Arab battles.

The military commander's announcement followed quickly a British mandatory government statement which bitterly charged the Jewish leadership in the Holy Land with condoning terrorism for political purposes.

In its statement, the Government warned that it was becoming "clearly more difficult for British troops to look upon members of the Jewish community as persons who are entitled, as they are, to protection."

In the strongest words it has yet addressed to the Jews, the Government said that continuance of "indiscriminate murder and condoned terrorism can only lead to forfeiture of all right in the eyes of the world to be numbered among civilized people."

The statement raised political tension to a boiling point.

Jewish observers termed it "unfair and even insulting." An Arab consensus on the criticism of the Jewish Agency was: "It's about time."

British House Approves Defence Policy

LONDON, March 1 (CP)—The Labor Government tonight won House of Commons approval for its defence policy and postwar reduction in Britain's armed forces.

A Conservative amendment, moved by Anthony Eden, deputy Opposition leader, charging that there was an "apparent absence of comprehensive measures for a co-ordinated and up-to-date system of national and Imperial defence" in the Government's policy, was defeated 243 to 122.

Prime Minister Attlee, in closing the debate on the Government's defence White Paper, said that there was more co-operation with the Dominions in defence matters "than we have ever had before, but I agree we want more."

Earlier Defence Minister A. V. Alexander said Britain must be strong because "the troubles of Western Europe may again engulf the world."

"No one can doubt, in the difficult situation in the world today, that we must have defence forces," Alexander said.

The over-all chief of Britain's army, navy and air force defended the principle of military conscription.

"In the world situation, no responsible minister could contemplate abandoning the principle of national service," he said.

Nationalists Make Advances

PEIPING, March 1 (AP)—A Chinese Nationalist column, blasting its way toward Communist-surrounded Mukden, reported today it was 70 miles away, with much of the intervening area clear. The report broke days of unrelieved Government gloom over the Manchurian situation.

Pro-Government dispatches reported reinforcements were streaming into Southern Manchuria.

The spokesman said the Communists had failed to penetrate the area between Sinmin and Mukden.

Communist Victory Celebrated in Prague

Council Rejects, Returns School Board Estimates

The record $1,693,784 Greater Victoria school district estimate of ordinary expenditures for the current year was rejected and ordered sent back to the school board for reconsideration by the City Council yesterday.

Action followed a finance committee recommendation which stated that the amount contained in the estimates was beyond the ability of the city to pay.

Victoria's share of the amount asked by the school board was $673,087, compared with $517,087 for 1947.

The city's rejection of its school estimates may be followed by other municipalities throughout the Province.

The Union of British Columbia Municipalities wired all municipalities in the Province to reject school estimates as a means of bringing forcibly to the attention of the Provincial Government their financial difficulties. The union had asked the Government to impose a sales tax to cover the entire cost of education.

Following a meeting with the cabinet Friday, members of the union executive said the Government had given no indication of any intention to aid municipalities.

Considering Speed Trials In Okanagan

KELOWNA, B.C., March 1 (CP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell is considering a trip to Lake Okanagan here in July to attempt to set a new world speedboat record with his jet-propelled Bluebird II.

The British speed king of land and water said in a letter to the Board of Trade here that he will come provided financial arrangements can be completed. Currency restrictions prevent financing the trials from Britain.

Now jet-propelled, the Bluebird has potential horsepower of 8,000 and Sir Malcolm anticipates a speed of 200 miles an hour. The engine is identical with that used in the De Havilland Swallow aircraft in which Geoffrey de Havilland was killed in 1946 while traveling at an estimated 630 miles an hour.

Severe Quakes

BATAVIA, Netherlands East Indies, March 2 (Tuesday) (AP).—Authorities said today they were without reports from the islands of Boeroe and Ceram, where a severe earthquake was believed to have occurred yesterday.

Political leaders said anti-Communist feeling was running higher in the country than at any time since the end of the war.

Election Annulled

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, March 1 (AP).—Congress voted tonight to annul the result of the February 8 national election in which Otilio Ulate Blanco, an Opposition candidate, was elected President.

Senator Opens Debate on Aid

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Speedy approval of the Marshall Plan to "help stop Word War III before it starts" was urged by Senator Arthur Vandenberg (Rep., Mich.) today in an impassioned hour and a half speech that brought fellow Senators to their feet applauding.

Opening an historic debate on the $5,300,000,000 aid-to-Europe bill, the foreign relations committee chairman said the United States must "light the beacon" of freedom in a world menaced by "aggressive Communism."

Curtain Falls With Aquitania's Arrival On Movement of 64,451 Dependents

OTTAWA, March 1 (CP)—The curtain falls on "Operation War Brides," when the Aquitania docks in Halifax tomorrow.

Seven wives of Canadian servicemen, and their five young children, will step down the gangplank, closing the final chapter in the Canadian Government plan.

The group will scatter to homes in Alberta, Saskatchewan, Ontario and Quebec.

Although 1942 officially was the initial year of the "war bride" plan, actually the first movement of dependents of any kind was in December, 1940, when the Government launched a plan to bring back the wives of Canadian soldiers who had followed their husbands overseas.

Arrival of this last small group brings to 64,451 the number of dependents of servicemen immigrating to the Dominion since the beginning of the World War.

Of this total 20,997 have been children, and 43,454 wives.

Changes Possible in Income Tax Bill But Some Simplifications Ruled Out

TORONTO, March 1 (CP).—Finance Minister Abbott said tonight that Bill 454—the new income tax bill—may be altered considerably prior to its reintroduction" in the House of Commons.

Suggested alterations will not change the "general set-up" of the bill, he said in an address prepared for delivery to the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario, but "we still have a completely open mind on many points in the bill as it now stands."

Mr. Abbott said he considers Bill 454 "a great improvement over the present income tax act which itself, is not, on the whole, a bad statute."

The new bill, introduced at the last session of Parliament, will be reintroduced this session for enactment.

Mr. Abbott said drafters of the new bill studied "very carefully" suggestions that the wartime act was too complex, "particularly in its arrangement and in its language."

"It was suggested that the new law could be made much more clear by separating all the provisions which concerned the average individual from those which concerned large, highly-complex corporations, and writing both divisions in simple language rather than in legal jargon.

"The drafters . . . came to the conclusion, with which I am in complete agreement, that it should not be done."

Complexities arose mainly from two factors: the desire to achieve greater fairness by introduction of exceptions, qualifications and conditions, and the fact that in "a great many cases" the individual's income comes from more than one source.

The language question presented a choice between "legal jargon" and "plain, simple English."

"I think that law, to be properly interpreted, must be exact and explicit and care has to be exercised that the language is not so plain and unornamented or so colloquial that it is open to various constructions. Probably the best that we can do is to keep the pressure on lawyers like me to avoid legal jargon that is unnecessary, and as far as practicable to use language that is intelligible to the layman as well as to the courts."

Senior Atomic Scientist Criticized in Report Of U.S. Security Group

Called One of Weakest Links: Absolutely Reliable, Says Official

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—A House Un-American Activities Subcommittee said today that Dr. Edward U. Condon, a senior United States atomic scientist, has associated with alleged Soviet spies and is "one of the weakest links" in atomic security.

In its report on Dr. Condon who heads the National Bureau of Standards, the committee suggested President Truman be formally advised:

"That the situation as regards Dr. Condon is not an isolated one but that there are other Government officials in strategic positions who are playing Stalin's game to the detriment of the United States."

Told by a reporter about the committee's statements, Dr. Condon said:

"If I am one of the weakest links in the nation's atomic security, this is gratifying information because I am absolutely reliable and therefore we have nothing to worry about. The country can relax."

The House group, in a formal report, recalled that Condon was appointed to his post on the recommendation of Henry Wallace. Speaking of Communists, the report said:

"In this country they haven't gotten as far as they did in Czecho-Slovakia, but they got pretty far because they got a man as Vice-President of the United States, and he is now their candidate for President, and he is the same man who recommended Dr. Condon as director of the Bureau of Standards."

The committee spoke of evidence which it said "indicates very strongly that there is in operation at the present time in the United States an extensive Soviet espionage ring."

Condon, the report said, "knows many of the individuals mentioned and associated with persons who are alleged Soviet espionage agents."

Condon commented: "That's just too vague to talk about. I certainly didn't do it knowingly."

Of the report's statement that he has lent his name and influence to one of the principal Communist endeavors in the United States, the scientist replied:

"I suppose that refers to my membership in the American Soviet Science Society. This society is supported by a $25,000 grant from the Rockefeller Foundation and is not Communistic in any sense of the word."

The committee report did say this was the organization.

Small Vessels Carry Many Across Sound

SEATTLE, March 1 (AP)—A ferry company serving more than 100,000 Puget Sound residents quit business today after 50 years, leaving commuters to use makeshift cross-sound transportation.

The Puget Sound Navigation Company, biggest ferry operators on the West Coast and one of the largest in the world, tied up its 16 ferries on 11 routes last midnight, and stopped paying its 750 employees.

Capt. Alex Peabody, company president, said it quit because it was losing money rapidly under state-established rates.

Commuters got to work today in an assortment of craft—excursion boats, chartered yachts and small private boats. Some motorists drove 120 miles around the head of Puget Sound via Olympia to get to Bremerton, a distance of 16 miles by water.

Back of the controversy is a sharp drop in ferry business from wartime peaks.

Capt. Peabody said the company would sell its ferries "if we can . . . and I think we can." The company said it would continue its international runs, from Seattle to Victoria, on which rates are not fixed by the state.

At Olympia Governor Mon C. Wallgren opened the way for at least one of the Puget Sound Navigation Company's ferries to re-enter intrastate business.

A delegation from the North Olympic Peninsula Chamber of Commerce said Wallgren told them he would approve operation of the Chinook in service between Seattle, Port Townsend and Port Angeles if the company applied for such operation.

The ferry is now operating between those points and Victoria.

Fail to Enter Ilsley's Tepee

OTTAWA, March 1 (CP)—Fifteen Indians today tried to invade the tepee of Justice Minister Ilsley, but failed to get through the flap.

Claiming to represent some 90,000 of Canada's 130,000 Indians, a delegation of the North American Indian Nation ventured to Parliament Hill to see the justice minister—without appointment.

Jules Sioui, secretary of the Nation, said Mr. Ilsley would not meet them because he was busy with a meeting.

They returned later, said Mr. Sioui, and were told the minister would not have time to see them "today, tomorrow or any other time."

"That's not exactly true," explained Mr. Ilsley. "I am not their minister and I told them so and declined to see them."

Explosion Damages Destroyer

SAN PEDRO, Calif., March 1 (AP)—An explosion at sea aboard the United States destroyer Duncan today killed one crew member and injured six others, the Navy announced tonight. The Duncan was en route to the Western Pacific by way of Pearl Harbor.

The Navy said the explosion occurred shortly before noon and that the Duncan suffered considerable damage at the stern and the flooding of the after-compartments from a hole at the water line.

The destroyer is in no danger of sinking, officers said, and she is proceeding to the naval base ships said in San Pedro, escorted by the aircraft carrier Bairoko.

Cause of the explosion was not known.

Witness Claims Bakers Losing Money on Bread

OTTAWA, March 1 (CP)—Bakers are losing money on their bread, the Commons Prices Committee was told by a spokesman for the industry today as it pursued its search for the causes of higher prices for that commodity.

"I think there is no profit now in making bread, that there is a substantial loss," R. P. Sparks of Ottawa, executive secretary of the National Council of the Baking Industry, testified when he was asked about bread profits.

Mr. Sparks indicated that in many cases bakers' sales of cakes and similar products were making up for bread losses.

Discussing the effect of bread-price decontrol and the simultaneous removal of flour subsidies last September, Mr. Sparks said a three-cent increase in the price of bread effected then would bring no profit to bakers.

He declared the added price was largely absorbed in costs.

Immediate effect of the higher price, he said, was to decrease consumption of an article dependent for its profit on volume sales.

Other developments:

1. Hughes Cleaver, Liberal committee member for Halton, advised the committee a bread retailer had told him a baker threatened to cut off his supply if he sold bread at less than the retail price indicated by the baker. He called for investigation of this charge.

2. James M. MacDonald of Toronto, secretary-treasurer of General Bakeries, Ltd., said some retailers were selling his company's bread at below its suggested retail price and no disciplinary action had been taken against them.

3. Mr. MacDonald told the committee his company had been losing money on its Toronto and Montreal sales for 16 weeks before it put a one-cent bread-price increase into effect early in February.

ABDEL KADER BEY HUSSEINI

Trains Running In Queensland

BRISBANE, Australia, March 1 (Reuters)—For the first time in 28 days trains ran again in Queensland today as 19,000 of the state's 23,000 striking railwaymen went back to work.

Queensland waterside workers, however, decided to stay out until the State Government lifts its emergency orders proclaimed last Friday.

Eyres Tells Communities To Boost Own Industry

Opportunities for industrial growth of British Columbia's smaller communities depend a very great deal on expansion of existing local industries or creation of products by home-town people with new and better ideas, according to Trade and Industry Minister Leslie H. Eyres.

In an adress over CBR last night the Minister called on British Columbians to step up their efforts and willingness to help one another, little business and big business alike.

He emphasized that there were many opportunities equal to those of manufacturing existing in many communities in the province, in the fields of trades and services.

TOURIST TRADE

"Catering to the tourist trade may offer a better kind of expansion for certain towns than any factory they might obtain," the Minister said.

"Conversely, other communities are particularly well placed in the matter of raw materials and power accessibility to invite industry to locate."

Mr. Eyres said the day when industry could be attracted by such "intrigues" as tax concessions, subsidies, and the like had largely disappeared; that industry was now looking for the maximum advantages for profitable operation and was not inclined to be beguiled by "free industrial sites and a few dollars' saving on taxes."

He added, however: "I think it is fair to say that some of our communities are not yet ready for industry. They lack adequate cheap power, sewerage and water systems, housing, schools, and recreational facilities that a progressive industry considers essential in locating in a particular area."

The Minister's address was devoted mainly to an explanation of the functions of his department's Regional Development Division and British Columbia Research Council in preparation of information as a guide to industrial expansion.

U.N. Responsible for Palestine May 15

This mother shows stark horror of situation as she and her family flee from square block of Jewish-occupied buildings in Jewish district of Jerusalem which were blasted recently to rubble. Fifty-two persons were killed in blast and 88 were injured. Hagana guards said they had accepted British police driver's okay and had passed lethal trucks, and much of onus for the blast has fallen to British. United Nations' Comission on Palestine will become legal Government of Holy Land when British mandate ends May 15. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, British High Commissioner, has set machinery in motion for British withdrawal from Palestine.

Price of Eight Houses At Braefoot to Be Cut

Special to The Daily Colonist

OTTAWA, March 1.—Reduction in the selling price to them will be given to eight of the ex-servicemen occupants of houses on the Braefoot Estate as a result of the report of the Wallace-Cabeldu-Stephenson committee, Veterans Affairs Minister M. F. Gregg announced in the House of Commons today.

On the remainder of the houses in the project, the selling price will stand as at present.

The Minister told the Commons that as a consequence of its inspection, it was the committee's opinion that a reduction should be made in regard to eight of the homes, but in the case of 20 houses a slightly higher valuation was set.

"Where higher values were set than the price placed upon the property, I do not propose any increase," the minister stated. "Where lower values have been set I propose to take the committee's advice and make a reduction accordingly."

Instructions to the District Superintendent of the Veterans Land Act at Vancouver for a reduction in future monthly payments by the eight veterans to adjust the downward revision of the selling price to them have gone forward. The minister said he proposed to present the full report on this project, as well as progress repots on other similar projects across Canada, to the Commons committee on veterans affairs as soon as it is set up. He did not announce any further particulars, but these will be announced by the district superintendent of the V.L.A. at Vancouver when his directions reach him. The minister said the valuation by the Wallace-Cabeldu-Stephenson committee was absolutely impartial and uninfluenced by his department.

Major-General George R. Pearkes, V.C., who has been strongly pressing all along for a cut in the selling price to the veterans on the project, said in a statement:

"The committee has confirmed the contention of the Canadian Legion officials and of the veterans at Braefoot that the cost of certain of the houses was excessive.

"I understand that the reduction, which are now aproved for the eight houses vary from $500 to $1,500 ap-[illegible] as great, in some instances, as the 20 per cent previously recommended, it may be attributed to the fact that building costs have increased and the terms of reference for the Wallace committee were to evaluate the houses at presnt day costs.

"After 12 months procrastination, the Government has reached a decision that should have been made a year ago. The Canadian Legion deserve just credit for the perseverance they have shown in this matter."

Reports Loss Of Valuables

Lloyd Ritter of Powell River reported the loss of his wrist watch valued at $50, a diamond ring worth $400 and $65 in cash, to city police yesterday.

Mr. Ritter told police that his last recollection was while talking with a stranger in a down-town cafe on Saturday night. He could not remember anything until he found himself at the corner of Fort Street and Cook Street minus the above articles.

Charged with dangerous driving on the William Head-Metchosin Road on Saturday, Allan Ford, a logging truck driver, was fined $25 and $2.50 costs in Provincial Police court yesterday. His driver's licence was suspended for one month.

Nigeria to Visit Falkland Area

PORT STANLEY, Falkland Islands, March 1 (AP)—The British cruiser Nigeria and the sloop Snipe left Port Stanley today for a visit to Falkland Island dependencies.

Begin Probe of C.N.R. Wreck In Which Five Trainmen Died

HANNA, Alta., March 1 (CP).—Railway officials today launched an investigation into the snow plow-yard engine collision in the Canadian National Railway yards here Saturday that claimed the lives of five railway employees and injured five, one seriously.

Result of the investigation was not expected to be disclosed at least until March 10, which has been set as a tentative date for an inquest into the deaths of the five men. Cause of the accident was not immediately known although visibility was reported fairly good at the time of the collision.

The accident, one of the worst railway mishaps in Alberta in recent years, occurred about 7:46 p.m. Saturday as the plow, returning from Kindersley, Sask., smashed into the rear of a stationary yard engine.

Killed in the collision were four occupants of a cupola at the front of the plow and Edgar W. Lloyd, 43, of Hanna, engineer of the yard engine. Occupants of the cupola killed were: V. A. Ochronowich, Kindersley, Sask.; S. Blasenko, Alsask, Sask.; N. A. Raivon and J. Solobodnik, both of Marengo, Sask.

Tonight hospital authorities at Hanna were fighting to save the life of M. Socoka, who was trapped in the twisted wreckage of the plow cupola for more than two and one-half hours while rescue crews cut through a maze of steel with acetylene torches to release him.

Work of clearing the siding at Hanna where the accident occurred and of clearing away the mass of wreckage still was proceeding tonight.

Fire Extinguished

COLWOOD, March 1.—Quick action by members of the Colwood Volunteer Fire Brigade averted what might have been a serious fire at the home of Bruce Sharp near Luxton Hall recently. The blaze had started in insulation material around the chimney but was extinguished without difficulty.

Early Aid Urged For Delinquency

Earlier treatment of delinquent children to make for earlier re-adjustment was suggested at the regular meeting of the Juvenile and Probation Officers' Committee.

In reviewing behavior of children coming before juvenile courts, the committee said it had been found that delinquent behavior was usually of long duration, and that earlier treatment could help.

The committee is making a study of family courts and is collecting material. It decided to request the Community Welfare Council of Greater Victoria to study employing visiting teachers as a means of achieving closer working relationship between schools, the court, and social agencies.

Welsh Flag Unfurled In Victoria

The colorful flag of Wales was unfurled proudly last night at the annual St. David's Day banquet of the Victoria Cymrodorion Society at Lougheed's Banquet Club.

More than 200 guests heard a concert of Welsh singing and toasted their native land at the banquet.

The flag, green and white with a red dragon, was sent from the people of Newport, large Wales seaport. A letter from the mayor of Newport wished the Victoria Welsh good luck and hoped the flag "may wave over you for many years and remind you of the land of your fathers."

It was presented to Stanley James, chairman, by E. C. Dawes, who arranged the gift during wartime while in Newport with the merchant navy. Photographs of the presentation will be sent to Newport.

Toast to the King was proposed by Mr. James. Toast to Wales, her music and her sons and daughters in Canada was proposed by Thomas Jenkins and replied to by Rev. T. G. Griffiths. Reeve A. I. Thomas brought greetings from Esquimalt municipality. The banquet closed with singing of the Welsh national anthem, Hen Wlad Fy Nhadau (Land of My Fathers).

Taking part in the program were: Mrs. W. Cadwgan Williams; Cambrian Glee Singers, conducted by J. Jones; Doris C. Thomas, Meth Davies, Mrs. Glenys Hansen, Jack Saywell, Maurice Thomas, Mrs. Perry Jones, Robert Thomas, Mrs. Jessie Jones Brown.

"Miss Leap Year" Chosen at Y.M.C.A. Dance

Council Returns to Committee City Workers' Salary Request

Request for salary increases from city employees bounced from the civic service committee to the City Council and back to the committee yesterday, with no action being taken.

The committee submitted a report stating that all employees should be treated alike in considering increases, but suggesting that this was a matter for a policy decision of the City Council.

The council first accepted the report, found it was not willing to discuss the subject, and sent it back to the committee for presentation of facts on the subject.

Ald. Edward Williams wanted to know why the committee was sending the requests to the council without a recommendation for action one way or another.

Ald. Charles Banfield, committee chairman, said he wanted guidance and wanted to know "where the money was coming from."

Ald. Dr. J. D. Hunter asked if it were not true that the council had already decided the matter of policy at a recent meeting in the mayor's office.

Said Ald. Williams: "Well, we just can't say no without giving reasons."

Mayor Percy George, however, contended that no definite decision had been reached at the meeting referred to.

Ald. Christie Again Heads Foster Home

Ald. Mrs. Margaret D. Christie was re-elected chairman of the Inter-municipal Committee of the Juvenile Foster Home at the first annual meeting held at the home, 1527 Coldharbor Road, last night.

Miss Rae Kirkendale was re-elected secretary.

Mrs. Christie said the committee would meet Oak Bay Council Wednesday evening when an attempt will be made to have Oak Bay participate in the scheme. She also said progress was being made in achieving Esquimalt's support.

"We feel we have saved many boys and girls and have set them on the right road to being decent citizens. We must compare the foster home to the fire stations which must be maintained, but the fewer fires we have the better we feel," declared Mrs. Christie.

PRAISES SUPERINTENDENT

She expressed praise for Col. W. S. Dingley, home superintendent, and his wife, and numerous clubs, organizations and friends in the city.

Said Miss Kirkendale: "Children know no boundaries in this Greater Victoria area. We are hopeful that Oak Bay and Esquimalt will see their way clear to share fully in this important phase of our child welfare program."

She said there were 34 admissions during the eight-month period.

Some of them faced serious charges and a great deal of time and study is necessary to determine what this behavior means to the child and to them decide on the necessary treatment. The services of the psychiatrist, the psychologist, probation officer, social worker, school home and community are all enlisted in order to evaluate the child's situation. This history is presented to the judge who can determine the treatment to be given," explained Miss Kirkendale.

COST PER CHILD

It is estimated that it costs the taxpayer $35,000 to provide for one child who continues throughout life to be delinquent, according to Miss Kirkendale.

"We cannot measure human values in dollars and cents, but even with this figure our juvenile home could be bought and operated for some ten or 14 years. If only one child was prevented from a life of crime the expenditure would be justified," she concluded.

Magistrate Henry C. Hall said the committee was to be commended for its work, saying that there was no other similar organization in Canada to his knowledge.

Miss Ruby McKay, superintendent of child welfare for the Province, expressed similar sentiments, stating that Victoria had led the way and set a fine example.

MISSIONARIES HELD

PEIPING, March 1 (AP).—A priest reported yesterday that 84 Roman Catholic missionaries, including five Canadian-born sisters, have been held under arrest by Chinese Communists since November in a town southwest of Tientsin.

Conductor, Orchestra Win Audience's Cheers

Welding his orchestra of 75 musicians into a magnificent instrument, and playing upon it like the master artist he is, Jacques Singer, musical director and conductor of the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra, gave a program last evening at the Royal Victoria Theatre that literally had the audience cheering in its enthusiasm.

With the opening overture to "Oberon" by Weber, the remarkable singing quality of the string section was at once apparent. The beautiful precision of attack, and the clear surety of phrasing was marked throughout the entire program. The pianissimo effect, almost a whisper, yet audible to the last row in the balcony, of the violins and celli in the first movement was lovely.

Perhaps the outstanding item of the evening was a glorious interpretation of the "Symphony No. 7 in A Major" by Beethoven. This symphony was a sweep and a joyous abandon which played as it was last evening transports the listener into another world altogether. The second movement particularly, with double theme, and the haunting somber underlying rhythm, overlaid with the warm, bright melody in A major, was most impressive.

An appreciable moment of complete silence followed this number, then round after round of deafening applause broke out, with cries of "bravo."

UNEXPECTED RHYTHMS

After a brief intermission, Mr. Singer and the orchestra played three dances from the Ballet "Gayne" Suite by the modern Armenian composer Aram Khachaturian, now living in Moscow. This is an exciting composition, the three dances forming a stimulating and most interesting group. The orchestration is full of unexpected rhythms and queer, almost off-beat effects. It is based on the folk-lore of Armenia and is Slav in mood to a marked degree. It was very popular with the audience.

The violin section under Albert Steinberg, leader and concert master, was heard in the Fugue for violins by Arcady Dubensky, and again their lovely golden singing tone was a rare treat. How Mr. Singer obtains such warm, rich texture of pure music is something he alone knows. Not the least interesting thing in an evening full of them was the way in which the conductor controlled with a mere movement of a finger the volume and the tone-shadows particularly in this number. The Fugue itself is remarkable as an exposition of counterpoint for instruments all of the same pitch.

Two Tschaikowsky numbers "Romeo and Juliet" and the stirring "March Slav" concluded the program, and the brasses had their innings. Again, the remarkable control of his instruments was shown. Even in its most rousing moments, there was no trace of blare, just a sense of tremendous power and strength.

In response of repeated applause and cheers Mr. Singer played the lovely "Valse Triste," the Red Cavalry March, a quaint little "Music Box" which ran down, and a particularly beautiful Bach "G Minor Fugue."

In a curtain speech, Mr. Singer expressed the pleasure it gave the members of the orchestra and himself to play before such an appreciative and responsive audience, and said perhaps he would be asked again some time. There were calls of "Any time."

GOOD LUCK CHARM

An English gold sovereign, good luck charm of an Up-Island woman inadvertently dropped into one of Victoria's parking meters, has been returned to its rightful owner.

It was found when coins from the meters were being counted at the City Hall.

D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller, said it was realized that the coin had been mistakenly placed in the meter, and was held awaiting a claimant.

Its face value is approximately $2.43, Mr. Macdonald said, but its gold value on today's market is more than $8.

Car Insurance Law in Effect

British Columbia's new motor vehicles' insurance law came into effect yesterday, making all motorists liable in accidents causing death, injury or property damage.

For the benefit of claimants who cannot obtain financial satisfaction from guilty drivers, the British Columbia Government intends to establish an "unsatisfied judgment" fund. In the event of the "no-insurance man" being involved in an accident, his car will be impounded until judgment is satisfied and proof of financial responsibility furnished.

The superintendent of motor vehicles has power to suspend the licence of a driver and registration of his car if judgments in any court of Canada or the United States are not settled within 30 days.

Flag of Red Cross Is Flown As Drive for $40,000 Opens

Red Cross drive for $40,000 in Greater Victoria opened yesterday with raising of the organization's flag, a red cross on a white background—at a ceremony on the Causeway at Government and Belleville Streets.

Canvassers started their work yesterday morning to raise their part of the $3,000,000 sought in Canada to pay for the many Red Cross activities carried on in the Dominion.

The $40,000 quota for the district is less than last year and considerably below the $100,000 drive in 1944, when activities were at a wartime peak.

Red Cross headquarters at Toronto announced yesterday that the free blood transfusion service begun in British Columbia will be enlarged to take in five more provinces, giving Canada the first such free blood system in any country.

The service in British Columbia was the first to be started in any country, and Alberta was added later. A total of 17,221 patients received free blood and plasma in British Columbia and Alberta in 1947, with 33,500 voluntary donors giving their blood. The service used 23,000 bottles of blood and plasma.

Agreements have been signed with Ontario, Quebec, Manitoba, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island will receive benefits of the service, replacing the professional donor system, from depots of maritime provinces.

ARENA TENDERS

Lowest tender on heating and ventilation for the Memorial Arena opened by the City Council yesterday was from W. R. Menzies & Company for $27,656.

Second tender was from C. J. McDowell for $35,056 and was subject to changes in the cost of materials at the time of delivery. Tenders for the electrical work are still to be received and will represent the last portion of the work to be done by contract.

CHARTER GRANTED

First steps toward formation of a Victoria branch of the Next-of-Kin Association was taken by Mrs. I. Parlane-Taylor, 352 Gorge Road East, yesterday.

In announcing that a Federal charter has been granted to the association, which will facilitate trips to overseas graves, Mrs. Parlane-Taylor asked all those interested to get in touch with her.

All parents of members of the newly-organized Boys' Band will meet at 2701 Asquith Street at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Three Health Associations in B.C. End Operations Due to Insolvency

More than 22,000 subscribers to health and accident benefit schemes in British Columbia lost their protection when three more associations ceased operations yesterday because of insolvency.

National Health Association, with a membership of approximately 12,000, informed the registrar of societies that it was ceasing operations voluntarily, and directors would meet March 15 to wind up the [illegible]

Industrial Health Association with 4,308 members, and Employees Mutual Benefit Association, with 5,774, had all the powers suspended by order of Attorney-General Gordon Wismer.

Of 17 benefit associations incorporated under the Societies Act, six are now out of business.

Union Health and Accident Association, Citizens' Health and Accident Association and West Coast Health and Accident Association, all had the powers suspended by the Attorney-General earlier.

Latest action to call a halt in operations of groups found to be financially unsound followed investigations by John C. Oswald & Company, Vancouver chartered accountants, engaged by the superintendent of insurance to analyse the books of the groups under the Attorney-General's instructions.

Report on Industrial Health Association showed that at November 30 last, close to the fiscal period, current liabilities totaled $12,697, and were $7,869 in excess of funds available to meet them. Total liabilities exceeded total assets by $18,138.

Employees' Mutual Benefit Association was shown in the report as having a shortage in working capital of $30,800, and an over-all de-[illegible] port noted that revenue of this group in the last three years had failed to meet expenditures.

Report on finances of National Health Association was not released, in view of the fact that it ceased operations voluntarily.

Dance Planned To Benefit Fire Victims

In connection with plans of Empress Hotel employees to hold a benefit dance to aid in re-establishing a co-worker—Mrs. Burton Smart—three Victoria dance bands have donated their services.

Mrs. Smart and five of her seven children lost practically all personal belongings in a fire which swept their premises in the old Shotbolt home last Thursday. She is the sole support of her large family.

The dance will be held at the Crystal Garden tomorrow night, starting at 9. Admission will be 75 cents.

Bands donating services for the occasion are Bert Zala, Wes Morris and Ray Griffiths. The orchestras will play alternately throughout the evening.

Richard Little, chairman of the special Empress Hotel employees' committee, reports the staff will take up a collection for Mrs. Smart. Donations can be made at the chief steward's office in the hotel.

The area of Canada is 3,694,864 square miles, compared to 3,776,700 square miles for the total area of Europe.

Legislature Opens

The third session of the Twenty-First Legislature of British Columbia will be opened this afternoon by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor. Into that the newly-formed Coalition Government will go with practically the same House standing as before, two Liberals at by-elections taking the place of two Liberals whose seats became vacant. While the result of the Saanich and Cariboo by-elections will be an encouragement to the Administration, it remains true that the new Cabinet will be expected to win their spurs at this session. The rejection of socialism at the polls clearly does not mean that the electorate wants a new lather of paternalism in any form. British Columbia is facing a critical period in its economy, and a steady hand at the helm will be needed.

One thing will be expected without fail from the coming session, a more sensible, adequate and just division of local revenues with the eighty-odd municipalities. The municipalities have shown that they cannot carry on with the present arrangements, and that they are falling behind seriously in their current and necessary services. Had they retained the additional revenue sources open to them in the 1920's under liquor, motor, racing and amusement tax disbursements they would have been $6,000,000 better off this year than then. In place of this, however, they have been allowed to keep only one such distribution, and that amounts to one-third only of motor vehicle registration fees.

Since peak Provincial revenues today are coming from liquor profits, gasoline tax, motor use, racing and these same sources, it is high time that a substantial part of the benefit of that should be handed on to the municipalities. It is rumored that the Province is toying with the idea of a sales tax. We suggest that no fresh taxation is needed or justified, but that a realistic pruning of overgrown Provincial costs would restore the balance, while there is still time. Least of all should British Columbia go into the tail-end of an inflationary period with an overstuffed budget.

Red Cross Drive

Ever since the Geneva Convention of 1864 the red cross on a white flag has been the symbol of mercy and the relief of distress. It was war that gave birth to the movement, now world-wide in scope, that has as its objective the well-being of individuals no matter how or where placed. War in those days meant endless suffering for wounded men lacking medical assistance. The Red Cross changed that picture. It brought into being the agencies that now bring to the battlefield surcease from pain and avoidable death. It became a universal emblem of charity and good will.

As in war, so in peace. Wherever disaster strikes or human lives are endangered through want the Red Cross is to be found. In countless communities across this Dominion, as elsewhere, the red cross on the white flag leads the way. Red Cross activities are as numerous as they are well known. Blood banks, outpost hospitals, home nursing and first aid, safety programs—these represent only some of the duties falling to the lot of this great humanitarian agency. It is difficult now to conceive what a community could be like without the ready help of the Red Cross Society. That help, as always, depends on the voluntary backing of the people as a whole.

Yesterday the Red Cross flag flew at the end of the Causeway to mark the opening of the annual campaign for funds. The objective for Victoria and district, $40,000, has been set lower than last year. This does not mean any lessening of services to be rendered; rather it denotes a special effort to make funds go a long way. In itself this is a welcome feature at a time when most things cost more, one that should invite a cordial response to the appeal of the Red Cross this year. Give as generously as possible. In supporting the Red Cross citizens are ensuring themselves of a kindly helping hand in times of need.

Indian Army

Dismay at the breaking up of the Indian Army, with Moslem soldiers and units going to Pakistan and Hindu personnel to India, was as common to native officers as to retiring British officers. The Indian Army had been forged into an agency where religious differences had been forgotten, and its dissolution as a stabilizing force was deeply regretted. One Moslem officer of a famous Indian regiment paid a fine tribute to his British colleagues when he expressed his feelings at their departure.

"None can see unmoved the passing of the British officers who have shared with their Indian comrades some of the bitterest of disasters and the most resounding triumphs," he wrote. "Their will always be memories of the British officers who trained them in peace and led them in war, who looked after their welfare and comfort and that of their families, who set up religious and educational institutes for the well-being of their men and wives, who kept them away from political and communal strife, which is now tearing asunder all the common bonds of humanity . . . and, above all, who created a happy family of all classes and creeds."

He goes on to say how painful it was for himself and others that British efforts to leave behind a united army were nullified, and appealed to Indian officers to uphold the regimental tradition. He ended thus: "May the valor and devotion of those of whom we think today be an ever-present inspiration to all of us who have to face the manifold problems of the future. The memories of those who have lived amongst us as gentlemen and friends, to preserve the democratic way of life, will grow stronger as the years pass."

As The Times," London, correspondent who quoted the letter remarks, these words need no comment. They say all there is to be said on the breakup of the former unified organization that was the Indian Army.

Object Lesson

What is happening today in Prague is a useful object lesson for the world in the particular form "democracy" takes in Communist hands. Parliament becomes the tool of a dictatorship and the police are set to hunt down all opposition to that. Freedom and human rights fly out of the window. Political leaders have charges trumped up against them and are spirited away. When the public wakes up, the Red flag is flying at its seat of government and the orders are coming from Moscow.

Strange as it may seem, that begins with the public. They permit known Communists to insinuate themselves into their institutions and to hold office. Once in office these men foment trouble and unrest by every means at their disposal. Their object is to create confusion. When the governance of a land has been made to totter, the Communists brush the Social-Democrats aside and take over the reins of power at the pistol-point.

Communists were voted into a Parliament of Czecho-Solvakia by one group of the people. They used that as a springboard to secure control of the police and other public services. When the crisis they were working for came all they had to do was to take over, and they had long been prepared for that. From there on, according to reports which have so far eluded a Cominform censor, the story seems to be one of outright gangster-war, usurping the free institutions of Parliament.

Western nations should take their cue from that, and keep known Communists out. Their objective is the same the world over. They will use Socialists and others as stalking horses, but in the end what they seek is the downfall of lawful government and the creation of a state of chaos. In that chaos they are prepared to shoot their way into power. In Prague this week they were doing it openly and before the world. After the Iron Curtain closes down on Czecho-Slovakia, however, the world will not hear the details; and they will be grim.

May Backfire

The continued campaign of murder and terrorism conducted by underground Jewish groups in Palestine cannot but arouse apprehension among even those whose sympathies may be with Jewish aspirations in the Holy Land. Either the Jewish Agency and other reputable groups are unable to influence the Stern Gang, or they condone its terrorism under the excuse of non-responsibility. In any case, the actions of these extremists do not promise well for peace within a Jewish state itself if and when partition of Palestine actually is effected. The Stern Gang's relentless practice of illegal methods may not stop overnight. The use of force to gain power is insidious; once begun it tends to become standard procedure. Jewish groups which have stood by and watched terrorism run rampant may live to regret their indifference. Helpers whose bent is for arson and killing may prove difficult to handle should the Jewish state come into being.

Seen in Passing

The taxpayers seem to be the last people consulted about anything. Yet it is their money that is being handed out so lavishly for this, that and the other service, for this, that and the other political excuse. Yet the time comes when the taxpayers call a halt. They put out of office those whom they find profligate and wasteful of the public purse.

The World Is Too Much With Us

The world is too much with us; late and soon,
Getting and spending, we lay waste our Powers;
Little we see in nature that is ours;
We have given our hearts away, a sordid boon!
This Sea that bares her bosom to the moon;
The winds that will be howling at all hours,
And are up-gathered now like sleeping flowers;
For this, for everything, we are out of tune;
It moves us not.—Great God! I'd rather be
A Pagan suckled in a creed outworn;
So might I, standing on this pleasant lea,
Have glimpses that would make me less forlorn;
Have sight of Proteus rising from the sea;
Or hear old Triton blow his wreathed horn.

—WORDSWORTH.

Art is long, life is short.—HIPPOCRATES.

Insinuations are the rhetoric of the devil.
—GOETHE.

Printing of Books

Frank M Kelley

"Blessings be upon the head of Cadmus, the Phoenicians, or whoever it was invented books." Seems to me Ruskin wrote these words. Or did he? Anyway, March is the month which marked the beginning of the long line of books springing from press-beds of English printing houses.

Books began, no matter who gets the credit for introducing them, to contribute to the general uplift of mankind a long time ago. Take the story of English book-making, the most inspiring of all chronicles written into the record of the race since that March day in 1468 when William Caxton was given the task of translating a work which the penmen of the time couldn't copy fast enough to meet the demand it created when completed.

Caxton, an educated gentleman of his time, was governor of a group of English traders resident in Bruges, when Margaret, Duchess of Burgundy, sister of English King Edward IV, commanded him to make a translation of the "Recuyell of the Histories of Troye" from existing French manuscripts.

The man who was to become Britain's first printer was a native of the Weald of Kent, was born about 1422, and had been brought up as a mercer in London. He had acquired some influence in the mercantile world as well as some property, and had been chosen by his fellow countrymen because he evidently possessed qualifications of a good—diplomat, apparently essential for preserving their privileges as traders.

BECAME "BEST SELLER"

It took Caxton several years to complete the translation, which he evidently did with the approval of the Duchess Margaret. Finished, the book was "multiplied" in the manner of the time and promised well. The method of producing copies, which the pens of copyists supplied, was all too slow for Caxton, particularly as the book was in the way of becoming a "best seller."

Others, in addition to Caxton, also apparently desiring the speeding up of book production, had devised new methods and their efforts had attracted the attention of the Englishman. The methods involved the multiplication of books by printing from blocks and moveable type.

Among the great pioneers of printing were one Coster, of Haarlem, who was first to conceive the idea in 1440. Then three men of Mets—Fust, Guttenburg and Schoeffer—produced an edition of the Latin Bible in book form, the text of which could not be distinguished from the finest produced manuscript. About the same period this most mysterious art was introduced to the good people of Bruges by one named Colard Mansion.

Mansion's activities caught the practical fancy of the enterprising Caxton, with a book of his own to multiply and market. The interest resulted in a partnership. Caxton, the man of substance, put up the money, while Mansion set up a printing office, out of which came impressions of "The Recuyell of the Histories of Troye." This was a remarkable tome, according to bibliographers, the first book ever printed in English.

Caxton's second book was another translation. It was from a French treatise, so the record runs, entitled "The Game and Playe of the Chesse." It was finished on the last day of March, 1474, and was the first production of his press after he had returned to England.

Establishing himself in England, Caxton began business as a printer and publisher. He was the first, certainly, to practice the craftsmanship of typographic art in the British Isles. His house is said to have been on the north side of the Almonry, near the western door of Westminster Abbey. There he practised typography and sold books through the alms-distributing house over a period of years between 1471 and 1491, when he died at the age of 70.

AUTHOR AND PUBLISHER

For the time, his productions were highly meritorious, authorities agree. In some instances he was both author and publisher. Among others, his published works included "Dictes and Sayings," 1477; "Chronicles of England," 1480; "Mirror of the World," 1481; "Confessio Amantes," 1483; "Aesop," 1484; "King Arthur," 1485.

An advertisement promoting some of his printings is quaint as well as simple: "If it ples ony man spirituel or temprel to bye ony piece of two or three comemoracios of salisburi use enpryntid after the forme of this present lettre which ben wel and truly correct, late hym come to the almonesrye at the reed pale and he shall have them good chepe."

Built of brick, Caxton's house fell down in 1845, when a piece of wood was sawed from a beam and made into a chess board and two sets of chessmen, appropriate mementoes of Caxton's first printed work in England—"The Game and Playe of the Chesse."

LONDON (CP) — Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Williams, who have been 20 years on the council housing application list of Willesden, North-west London, have just moved in. "It has been worth the wait," said Williams.

Brainpower Cannot Be Blueprinted

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

We share one idea with the Communists: Our civilization is committed to economic determinism. The dominant philosophy of our world is that the prime goal of society is to create a high material standard of living, measured by the amount and distribution of consumers' goods.

Some months ago, Henry Agard Wallace gave expression to this idea in justifying the suppression of personal freedom in Russia. He argued that Russia could not afford personal freedom until its people had plentiful consumers' goods. Personal freedom creatively to employ one's talents in any field of endeavor must, in Mr. Wallace's eyes, be subservient to high industrial production and consumption.

That the lofty achievements which have been the very creators of civilizations have rarely, if ever, had materialist motivation; is discounted. In this philosophy, Jesus, Mahomet, Buddha and Gandhi must appear as fools. That material advances have been furthered by the creature thought of persons whose quest was purely for truth, is overlooked. That anything, therefore, that intimidates the bold searches of the human mind will—in the end—react to impoverish not only culture but also the economy, is not conceded; nor that progress for the mass always has been furthered by a relatively few superior individuals.

Nevertheless, the attempt to lift the mass while repressing individual aspiration and intimidating non-conformist minds, cannot possibly be "progressive." It must, of necessity, lead to stagnation. As the physical race is only improved by the chromosomes of the more healthy and vigorous; so is material progress furthered not by the average but by the exceptional. In all nature, the higher the form, the greater the differentiation from the average. The less differentiated mass can, perhaps, be fitted into blueprints. But superior individuals, always characterized by a preference for freedom over security and by being in advance of their times, cannot.

Therefore, bureaucratic collectivisms, by rendering impotent the very instruments of progress, invariably become poorer, not richer, in all that makes a civilization great and prosperous. Characteristic of them is that it becomes ever more difficult to perform anything not in their plans. But these cannot include anything beyond the mentality of the average minds that make them.

Even in dealing with average men, such societies fail by reason of their mechanistic concepts. There is no such thing as a measurable, is no such thing as a measurable unit of human efficiency in the terms of which a machine is measurable, which, if it but receives proper fueling and maintenance, always behaves the same way. The efficiency of human beings depends on psychological factors as numerous as the persons involved. A man "placed" for the "public interest," in a job he is capable of performing but dislikes, will be inefficient. His efficiency also may drop to zero for no better reason than that he has had a quarrel with his wife.

The efficiency of an Einstein, pursuing a fantastic and fascinating hunch, is not measurable in any general terms, nor is the efficiency of any artistic genius. Yet the British Government has "planned" that all artists should be put at "essential" work unless their activities are producing income. On this thesis Van Gogh, whose pictures had their greatest sale after his death, might have been made a street cleaner with the probable result that he would have produced neither pictures nor clean streets.

The problems of Europe—and America—will not, I think, be solved, until our civilization-forming minds have discovered a more satisfactory reason for living than to be consumers of goods. The Marshall plan can only prolong the lease on time in which to find salvation. The crisis is not in the economy, but in the suspended condition of consciousness regarding why and for what human societies exist. The economic crisis itself is not the cause but the result of the political (and philosophical) vacuum.

An open mind is sometimes too porous to hold a good idea . . . The Marshall plan can be extended as an outright grant, as a businesslike loan, or on the usual easy non-repayment basis . . . Henry Ford II said during a recent interview: "I do not know whether we will ever get to a point where we will all work together. There is always some man handy to throw in a monkey wrench" . . . The businessman who keeps his head up and his overhead down is able to float . . . Successful politicians are always able to deal with hecklers. There is the classic story of a candidate for office continually interrupted during a speech by a man, who shouted "liar." The politician finally retorted: "If the man who persists in interrupting will be good enough to tell us his name instead of merely shouting out his profession, I am sure we shall be pleased to know him" . . . From the Kingston Whig-Standard: "It would seem that there always has been a preponderance of trouble-makers in the human race who create problems much faster than wise men can solve them" . . . Henry Ward Beecher wrote: "No man can tell whether he is rich or not by turning to his ledger. It is the heart that makes a man rich. He is rich according to what he is, not according to what he has" . . . The late Charles W. Elliot was president of Harvard for 40 years. He remarked when retiring at the age of 75 years: "When I was elected president, I was only 25. Of course I was very dignified, and I suppose a little frightening. When I walked about the campus, students would point to me and say, 'There goes old Elliott'. Now that I am 75, they look at me and say, 'There goes Charley.'"

GROUP CHECKED

MUNICH, March 1 (AP). — American officials said today they were checking on a group rounded up recently by German police for bootlegging heavy water, used in atomic experiments.

German police said eight aluminum flasks of heavy water were spirited from Norway, where British Commandos during the war smashed most German testing equipment, and were brought to Munich University in 1945.

The Packsack

of GREGORY CLARK

All human relations, including the international, would be immensely improved if we observed that shrewd Biblical injunction to consider the beam in our own eye. But we have reached the climax of a century in which the spirit of competition has been elevated to the level of morality. From international banking down to hockey, the principle is—keep your eye on the referee and give 'em the butt.

My father, in his declining years, was my passenger one day as I drove him to his summer cottage from the city. He was a delightful passenger. He was one of those people who must comment on everything seen in passing. For example, when we went by a prosperous farm house which was notable because of the extraordinary big and beautifully stacked woodpile, my father remarked with interest—"Ah, a Barnardo boy on that farm!"

As we journeyed along, an American motor car passed us going our way, and its spare tire on the rear revealed an election sign painted around the tire cover, "Elect Schwarts Judge—Erie County."

My father sat up eagerly, as one suddenly called upon to make a speech.

"Ah, my boy," he declaimed, "there is the American tragedy! The elected judiciary. Who is this man Schwarts that is offered as a candidate for the office of judge? Some shyster lawyer. Some ward heeler, who is in the cahoots if not the pay of one of the political parties! Some political boss has said to this Schwarts, 'we will elect you judge, providing you dispense favors from the bench to the party.'

"Wod different," enunciated the old gentleman, swelling, "is our British system, whereby we appoint our judiciary for life; and only the life-long friends of the judiciary can expect any favors!"

CARS DAMAGED

Considerable damage was done in an accident yesterday when a car driven by D. G. Nightingale, 129 Island Highway, was in collision with a car driven by William Campbell, 1315 Pearl Street, at the corner of Hampton Road and Wascana Street, Saanich police reported.

Refused Admission to Canada—A total of 19,636 persons were refused admission to Canada during the fiscal year ending March 31, 1922, it was announced in the House today. Of this number, 12,553 were rejected at the International Boundary and 1,082 at ocean ports. The number of American citizens refused admission was 10,388.

Rigid Inspection—Orders have been issued that all steamers carrying passengers from British Columbia ports to the North must be specially inspected and certified by the Government inspector of steamboats before being cleared by the Collector of Customs. This means that passengers to and from the North will have additional assurance of safety and comfort and should add greatly to the number of travelers sailing from Victoria or other Canadian Coast cities avoiding the danger of travel by overcrowding boats, such as are continually leaving United States ports.

SAANICH BY-ELECTION

Sir,—With all due deference to Mr. Brown's judgment, it should be pointed out that the returning officer for Saanich was in no way to blame for any muddle.

I had the pleasure and privilege of attending the meeting previous to election day at which the deputy returning officers were briefed. The returning officer's instructions were clear, lucid, concise and explicit. Also every form and envelope supplied by him to the deputy returning officers carried complete pointed instructions as to its use and disposal, also the Elections Act gives complete instructions as to the use and disposal of all forms.

If anyone is to blame regarding the late delivery of the notices re the meeting, that blame should be placed on the postal authorities as I received my notice in plenty of time to attend the meeting.

City Increases Indigents' Rate

Payments to the Victoria Medical Association for the care of indigents were raised from 50 to 75 cents per capita monthly by the City Council yesterday on recommendation of the city welfare committee.

Ald. Mrs. Margaret D. Christie, chairman, said the committee was "almost forced" to bring in the recommendation "if we were not to be faced with a strike of doctors like we had a few years ago."

She said members of the Medical Association had claimed doctors were only receiving 47 cents for each visit to an indigent patient.

Ald. Christie said the committee will recommend that payment be raised to $1 per capita per month if the Provincial Government will consent to share the added cost.

Will Recommend New Legislation

Recommendations for labor and social legislation will be made to the Provincial Government on Friday by Vancouver Junior Board of Trade.

A delegation of 15 members of Vancouver board, when it meets the Cabinet, will be accompanied by representatives of Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce, and New Westminster and Cloverdale Boards of Trade.

The group is scheduled to present its annual brief to the Government at 10:30 a.m., and will attend the sitting of the Legislature that afternoon.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East

West laid down the blank ace at his partner's bid suit, then shifted to the queen of clubs. He was naturally anxious to put East on lead for a spade return and therefore chose this false-card in the club suit. If East had the ace he would put it up; if he did not, West would not have lost anything by his selection of the queen.

East took the second trick with the club ace and returned the spade queen through declarer's king. There was nothing to be gained by ducking, so declarer put up the king, and, as he feared, West ruffed. West now laid down the club king.

South had already lost the ace of spades, a spade ruff and a club trick, and it seemed virtually certain that he would have to lose another spade which would mean the defeat of his contract. After a moment's study, however, South saw a faint hope and promptly played for it.

He ruffed the club, led a trump to dummy, and ruffed another club. He went back to dummy with a trump and ruffed the last club with the heart ace, then overtook his own last trump and cashed dummy's fourth trump, while discarding the spade from the closed hand. This last trump lead proved a bit too much for East. He had to keep the high spade over dummy's ten, hence could hold on to only two diamonds, and South had no trouble in cashing the diamond ace, leading the four to the king, and cashing the ten-spot for the crucial trick.

Wary Britons Cynically Notice Russians' Approach to Channel

The nightmare feeling of "it has all happened before" spread over Britain as black newspaper headlines reported the Communist push toward Western Europe.

Justly or unjustly, most people think back to the days of 1938-39 when Hitler was snapping up pieces of Central Europe. A newspaper vendor summed up popular feelings [illegible] porting the Communist coup in Czecho-Slovakia, he wrote on a blackboard by his stand:

"Russians only 500 miles from Channel ports!"

Today's spread of Communism is, of course, different in operation from the Nazi expansion. Communists work from within, seizing key positions. As far as arms and men are concerned, there is no foreign intervention.

But as far as popular opinion in [illegible] and Russia mean the same thing.

FRANCE NEXT?

With France believed high on the list for a Communist push, historians are recalling that this is the 100th anniversary of the French Revolution of 1848. Three February days—from the 24th to the 26th—saw rioting and bloody fighting on the barricades that brought down the Orleans Monarchy.

The outcome of that revolt shook Europe and shaped the course of history. A Communist success in France today would have the same effect. If Britain managed to remain aloof from that turmoil 100 years ago, today she is watching with concern the sturdy efforts of Premier Robert Schuman to establish a stable Government with the moderate "third force."

DECREASED STRENGTH

Adding to the feeling of uneasiness in Britain, is the knowledge that British military strength has rapidly diminished since the end of the war. Nobody is in the least belligerent, but all would feel better if Britain could speak with more authority.

Events in Europe are not the only factors contributing to the general unhappiness. The squabbles with Latin-American countries over the Falkland Islands and Honduras have depressed and irritated Britons.

"And now—Honduras," said The Evening Standard wearily in a headline last week, as if this were the last straw.

A lot of people who had to look Honduras up on the map agreed that it was.

...Oddities...

YONKERS, N.Y., March 1 (AP).—The ferryboat John J. Waish of the Yonkers-Alpine Line chugged off three minutes ahead of schedule yesterday because Skipper Russell Peterson scented trouble.

As his vessel lay at Alpine, N.J., Peterson saw a skunk on the dock making for the boat. No passengers or vehicles approaching, Peterson signalled for a hurried take-off, just beating the polecat by a nose.

WILLIAM, Mass., March 1 (AP).—How much is a bath worth? It cost Police Patrolman Sydney E. Barton $700 yesterday. Barton filled his tub and leaped into the nice warm water. Two of the tub's legs collapsed.

The tub overturned and soon the bathroom was flooded. Barton wrapped a towel around himself and dashed downstairs shouting to a startled group of arriving dinner guests to shut off the water.

The guests then were put to work mopping up.

Barton estimated the water damage at $700.

To Be Given Doctorate

One of best known transportation officers in North America, Alistair Fraser, M.C., K.C., vice-president in charge of traffic, Canadian National Railways, Montreal, will receive an honorary degree of doctor of laws at special convocation ceremony from Dalhousie University on March 9. Son of the late Hon. D. C. Fraser, former Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, Mr. Fraser was born at New Glasgow, N.S. He graduated from Dalhousie University with B.A. and LL.B. degrees and was called to bar of Nova Scotia in 1911. Following distinguished career in Great War, in which he was wounded, won the Military Cross and became A.D.C. to Canadian Corps commander, he became general solicitor of Canadian National Railways and later was appointed vice-president in charge of traffic.

Missing Plane Lands Safely

NEW YORK, March 1 (CP).—The United States Coast Guard said tonight that an airliner with 52 persons aboard, reported missing earlier on a flight from Bermuda, has landed safely at its destination, Caracas, Venezuela.

Communication difficulties were blamed for a report that the plane had been missing for 12 hours after it left Hamilton, Bermuda, this morning.

"There was nothing to the report," the Coast Guard added.

"The plane landed safely at Caracas tonight."

Party Revolt Seen in South

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP).—Mississippi Democrats threatened outright secession from the Democratic national convention today unless national leaders back down on President Truman's civil rights program.

The flames of revolt burned brightly elsewhere in the South.

Mississippi's delegates to the national Democratic convention were asked by the party's state executive committee to walk out unless the party reverses itself on the civil rights issue.

The South Carolina Democratic executive committee opposed the nomination or election of Truman, and charged the Federal party with "contemptuous political betrayal" of the South.

In Tennessee, the Memphis Democratic chieftain, E. H. Crump, said: "I will vote for a Democrat next November but it will not be Truman."

Guatemalan Coup Forestalled By Landing of British Troops

BELIZE, British Honduras, March 1 (Reuters). — Diplomatic advices from Guatemala last week referred to the strong probability of an airborne attempt to seize Belize and the rest of British Honduras by a bloodless coup, it was disclosed today.

Five Dakota aircraft were known to be at an airfield near the border, and it was feared they might be used to ferry troops in to Belize airfield.

Before the arrival three days ago of the British cruiser Sheffield, flagship of Vice-Admiral Sir William Tennant, commander in chief of the American and West Indies station, there were no guns or fully-equipped men to defend the airfield.

The cruiser Devonshire arrived here today from Kingston, Jamaica, and began disembarking men of the Gloucestershire Regiment, armed with anti-tank guns and mobile equipment. The troops took up key defence positions.

Flying up to 200 men in at a time, in a series of trips, the five transports could have rapidly built up a force capable of seizing Belize and its surroundings swiftly.

The time for such a move, however, is past. Any move by the Guatemalans would immediately produce bloodshed and violence, which they are not expected to risk.

Tennant has said he does not think a landing from the sea is a serious possibility.

GUATEMALA CITY, March 1 (Reuters).—Severance of diplomatic relations with Britain and cancellation of the Anglo-Guatemalan meat contract, which calls for shipment of 400 tons monthly, are considered here as a result of intense feeling over the question of British Honduras.

President Arevalo of Guatemala suddenly canceled a speech he was to have made to Congress today. He spent the day at a Cabinet meeting discussing the situation.

There have been anti-British demonstrations in this city.

The press has been openly demanding the invasion of British Honduras, but here as in Belize this is not considered an immediate likelihood.

Advises Action On Houses Still Unbuilt

VANCOUVER, March 1 (CP).—Reconstruction Minister Howe has advised 65 veterans who contracted with J. G. James & Sons to start action against the contractor.

The veterans contracted with the firm to build 48 houses for them in South Vancouver and 19 in East Hastings. Richard James, active head of the 40-year-old company blamed the Federal Government priorities system for his failure to complete the houses.

Most of the 48 are virtually finished and are occupied. No work has been done on the 19 since December.

Mr. Howe, today, in a letter to the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council here, said action should be taken against the contractor for fulfilment of the contracts or return of the deposits.

Mental Homes In Alberta "Creditable"

EDMONTON, March 1 (CP).—Operation of Alberta's mental institutions is "creditable" but "as in other parts of Canada" there is room for improvement, it was reported in a survey tabled in the Legislature today.

The survey was prepared by Dr. C. M. Hincks of Toronto, general director of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene. Criticism at the Legislature session a year ago on conditions in the Province's mental institutions resulted in the Social Credit Government ordering the investigation.

"Arrangements for administration, humanitarian care, treatment and prevention are creditable," the report said. The report also stated that men and women patients were interviewed and not one had witnessed any brutal handling of other patients.

Truman Veto Halts Sales By Two Sioux

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP). — President Truman, vacationing in Florida, has had to take time out to consider the prblems of Mrs. Ella White Bull and Mrs. Bessie Too Elk-Poor Bear.

This came out today when the White House announced that President Truman had vetoed two bills—one for Mrs. White Bull, one for Mrs. Poor Bear.

As members of the Oglala Sioux Indian tribe, these women own—but can't sell—land in an Indian reservation in South Dakota.

Congress passed bills which would have enabled them to sell their property.

Truman said in his veto message that Mrs. White Bull "is a full blood Sioux Indian approaching 70 years of age with only a very limited education, and no business experience."

As matters now stand, Truman said, Mrs. White Bull gets an income from the land. If she were allowed to sell it she might make a bad deal. Hence, the veto.

Same for Mrs. Poor Bear.

River Boat Hat Realizes $450

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 1 (AP)—Hats named "absinthe frappe" and "fete exotique," the latter like a vegetable market, were shown at a Spring festival here Saturday.

But the one that cut the purse strings loose was a chapeau like a Mississippi River steamboat. It was named "Louise Ana."

The river boat bonnet "Louise Ana" was sold twice by radio star Gracie Allen, turned back each time for re-sale, and finally given to Gracie to wear herself. All told, it brought in $450 for charity at the Spring festival—"fete des chapeaux."

"Louise Ana" was designed by Grace Nugent of California. Shaped like a sternwheeler, the sailor crown had small smoke stacks wafting smoke-veiling. It also had a flower dotted side-wheel and two tiny passengers on the pale beige crown.

"Fete exotique," by Gerald Simon, was a minute array of fruit and vegetables atop a flourish of bittersweet. It brought $175 at the auction.

"Desire" was all brimming over with romance. It was of pale blue shantung straw caught up with a rose on either side. Mary Goodfellow designed it.

"Absinthe," by Walter Florell, was a frothy lemon straw trimmed in larkspur blue.

Lake Hill Institute to Discuss Better Farmhouse Competition

At the meeting of Lake Hill Women's Institute, held Monday, March 1, at the Institute rooms, Thursday, March 11, was set aside for the continuance of the discussion begun on Adelaide Hoodless Day. This relates to the points in the "Better Farm House Competition" sponsored by the Dominion Government and the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. Already some of the members have contributed drawings and suggestions. It was reported at Monday's meeting that Mrs. R. W. Mercer, the president, and Mrs. Greenwell, secretary, had conducted the discussion. Eighteen members were present, and Mesdames Glover, Harvey, Tilley and Miles were tea hostesses.

The monthly news letter from Mrs. Stella Gummow, superintendent of W.I., reported two new British Columbia Institutes, at Kinnaird and Silver Creek, bringing the total in the Province to 205.

Mrs. E. M. Service gave a comprehensive report as delegate to the annual meeting of the Victoria Local Council of Women. Mrs. K. M. Massey reported as delegate to the annual meeting of the Queen Alexandra Solarium, specially mentioning the satisfactory conditions and continued gratifying results from treatment. Expenditure on repairs and upkeep of buildings had been heavy. Mrs. W. Peden and Mrs. Curtis Sampson, original members of the Solarium Board, had been honored with life membership. The Solarium, which had its inception as the result of British Columbia Women's Institute interest and sympathy in the plight of crippled children, would celebrate its 21st birthday this month. Mrs. Massey spoke of the need of enlarging the building, as there was a large waiting list of children requiring treatment.

The sum of $10 was voted by the meeting for the purchase, by the Home Economics committee, of new materials to be made up for the Christmas bazaar. Lake Hill Institute also decided to become a member of Victoria Horticultural Society. Two new members were welcomed, and a visitor, Mrs. E. M. Cafferata, of Moose Jaw. Mrs. Glover convened the tea, and Mrs. K. C. Harvey was announced the winner of the regular monthly tea contest.

The president, Mrs. Mercer, presided.

Full Ceremony to Be Observed For Elizabeth and Philip

LONDON, March 1 (Reuters). — Full ceremonial regalia will be brought out for the first time since 1913 when Princess Elizabeth, heiress presumptive to the Throne, and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, are installed on April 23 as Knights of the Garter, one of the most ancient orders of chivalry in Europe.

The ritual of installation into the 600-year-old order was revived after a lapse of 106 years when the Duke of Windsor, then Prince of Wales, took his place as a knight in 1911. Garter chapters were held in 1912 and 1913 in the Chapel of the Garter Knights, St. George's, Windsor, but there has been no similar ceremony since the outbreak of the First World War.

Princess Elizabeth was invested with the order shortly before her wedding last November. She becomes the fourth lady of the Garter, the others being her mother, Queen Elizabeth, her grandmother, Queen Mary, and Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands.

The service takes place just three months before the celebration of the order's 600th anniversary, and the King and Queen and other knights of the order will walk in procession from Windsor Castle to the chapel along a route lined by men of the Household Cavalry and foot guards.

The order was founded by King Edward III in the 13th century. Historians have generally agreed that his intention was to perpetuate the tradition of King Arthur and his Knights of the Round Table. It is regarded as the highest order of chivalry in the world.

There are 26 knight companions of the Order of the Garter, including the King and the Kings of Sweden, Norway, and Denmark.

Among the British knights are the Earl of Athlone, former Governor-General of Canada, and the [illegible]

Little Stories for Bedtime

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

CHATTERER GROWS VERY, VERY BOLD

"I'm not afraid. I'm afraid. I'm not afraid. I'm afraid. I'm not afraid." Chatterer the Red Squirrel kept saying these two things over and over again to himself. You see, he really was afraid, and he was trying to make himself believe that he wasn't afraid. He thought that perhaps if he said over and over so many times that he wasn't afraid he actually might make himself believe it. The trouble was that every time he said it a little voice, a little truthful voice down inside seemed to speak right up and tell him that he was afraid.

"Coward! Coward! Coward!" screamed Sammy Jay

Poor Chatterer! It hurt his pride to have to own to himself that he wasn't as brave as little Tommy Tit the Chickadee. His common sense told him that there was no reason in the world why he shouldn't be. Tommy Tit went every day and took food from the hand of Farmer Brown's boy. It seemed to Chatterer and to Happy Jack the Gray Squirrel and to Peter Rabbit and to Sammy Jay and to Blacky the Crow, all of whom had seen him do it, as if it was the very bravest thing they ever had seen, and their respect for Tommy Tit grew wonderfully.

But Tommy Tit himself didn't think it brave at all. No, sir, Tommy knew better. You see, he has a great deal of common sense under the little black cap he wears. "It may have been brave of me to do it the first time," thought he to himself when the others told him how brave they thought him, "but it isn't brave of me now, because I know that no harm is going to come to me from Farmer Brown's boy. There isn't any bravery about it, and it might be just the same way with Chatterer and all the other little forest and meadow people if only they would think so and give Farmer Brown's boy half a chance."

Chatterer was beginning to have some thoughts himself as he tried to make himself think that he wasn't afraid. He heard the door of Farmer Brown's slam and peeped out from the old stone wall. There was Farmer Brown's boy with a big fat hickory nut held out in the most tempting way, and Farmer Brown's boy was whistling the same little whistle he had used when Chatterer was his prisoner and he had brought good things for Chatterer to eat. Of course, Chatterer knew perfectly well that that whistle was a call for him, and that that big fat hickory nut was intended for him. Almost before he thought he had left the old stone wall and was half way over to Farmer Brown's boy. Then he stopped short. It seemed as if that little voice inside fairly had shouted in his ears, "I am afraid." It was true. He was afraid. He was right on the very point of turning to scurry back to the old stone wall when he heard another voice. This time it wasn't a voice inside. No, indeed. It was a voice from the top of one of the apple trees in the Old Orchard, and this is what it said: "Coward! Coward! Coward." It was Sammy Jay.

Now it is one thing to tell yourself that you are afraid and it is quite another thing to be told by someone else that you are afraid. "No such thing! No such thing! I'm not afraid!" scolded Chatterer, and then to prove it he suddenly raced forward, snatched the fat hickory nut from the hand of Farmer Brown's boy and was back in the old stone wall. It was hard to tell which was the most surprised—Chatterer himself, Farmer Brown's boy or Sammy Jay. "I did it! I did it! I did it!" boasted Chatterer.

"You don't dare do it again, though," said Sammy Jay in the most provoking and unpleasant way.

"I do, too," snapped Chatterer, and he did it. And with the taking of that second nut from the hand of Farmer Brown's boy the very last bit of fear of him left Chatterer, and he knew that Tommy Tit the Chickadee had been right all the time when he insisted that there was nothing to fear from Farmer Brown's boy.

"Why," thought Chatterer, "if I would have let him, he would have been my friend long ago." And so he would have.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

THE GAME OF "MUMBLETY-PEG"

One of our readers inquires about "the children's game, which thay call "mumblety-peg."

Although this game is regarded now as a children's game and is played generally by boys of school age, it was familiar among young service men during the last war. The fact is that it is a very old game, apparently of Scotch or Irish origin, which was played formerly by men as well as boys.

The name, originally "mumble-the peg," was in connection with an old rule by which a loser had to bend down and remove with his teeth a wooden peg which his adversary had implanted with his knife. The play, of course, was as in its modern form the flipping of a pocket knife into the earth, so that it would stand up by the blade, with a series of rules as to the position of the players. Today the small boys who remain the game's chief enthusiasts often sit on the ground and aim the knife at the earth between them.

In parts of Ireland a game of this nature long has been played with a fork, but as it is known here, it seems to have come from Scotland, where it is called "knife" as well as mumble-peg, mumble - the - peg, mumbly-peg and mumblety-peg.

Reo McCaslin of San Francisco to Speak Here

Mr. McCaslin, authorized speaker for Technocracy Inc. from San Francisco, will speak at a mass meeting in the Lower Ballroom, Crystal Garden, on Tuesday, March 2, at 8 p.m. The title of his address will be "The Threat of Abundance."

Mr. McCaslin states, "The fighting war is over. Its aftermath of prosperity has almost vanished, but the problems which plagued us before we set out to make the world safe for democracy, are all returning in an aggravated form. During the hungry thirties we did not know how to handle an abundance, and now we are threatened with an even greater abundance on this North American Continent."

This Technocracy Speaker has made a close study of the conditions which face us, and poses these questions for all North Americans to consider. "How shall we deal with this abundance?" "Shall we destroy it in another War?" "Shall we prevent it by not producing it?" "Shall we pay the rest of the world to take it off our hands, or, shall we consume it ourselves?" This is a challenge to every intelligent North American to attend and hear TECHNOCRACY'S answer to these vital questions.

Tickets are available at Section Headquarters, corner of Douglas and Kings Road, or from any Technocrat.

PLAZA THEATRE In "Lured," Boris Karloff shares stellar honors with Lucille Ball, George Sanders and Charles Coburn. The film is now showing at the Plaza Theatre through United Artists release. Karloff only appears in one sequence, but it is one of the most daring and startling in the picture inasmuch as he scares the audience almost as much as he scares the heroine, lovely Lucille Ball."

Speaker Says Organized Labor Best Able to Fight Communism

"The major portion of industrial unrest today can be traced to the Communist element," said George Wilkinson yesterday in an address before the Gyro Club at Lougheed's Banquet Club.

In a talk entitled: "Industrial Peace or Chaos," Mr. Wilkinson said "the Communists thrive on disruption . . . and they are extremely clever."

"I'm getting sick and tired of people saying 'it can't happen here' . . . It can happen here, and it will happen here if we don't do something about it," he emphasized after noting the recent Communist mastery of Czecho-Slovakia.

Mr. Wilkinson, representative of labor on the newly-formed Labor Relations Board, and secretary of the Trades and Labor Council of Victoria, opened his address by explaining he was expressing personal opinions and not attempting to outline policies of the labor board or the Trades and Labor Council.

"SEEK REAL REASONS"

He described industrial peace as [illegible] tem," and urged "kindness toward organized labor."

"If North America is to be saved from Communism," he continued, "it's to be done by organized labor. They're the only ones sufficiently organized to do it . . . and the only ones that are doing something about it."

Dealing with problems of labor and management, Mr. Wilkinson said "they affect one and all of us."

Every person in the community could be of some help in assisting with solutions to such problems, he said. "Don't make snap judgments . . . get to know all the facts and seek the truth before airing opinions.

"Look for the real reasons.

"Look for the main issues, and leave out the 'piffle'," he concluded.

The speaker was thanked by Rev. William Hills.

"Cluny Brown" Opens At the York Today

Charles Boyer and Jennifer Jones are romantically teamed for the first time on the screen in Ernst Lubitsch's production of "Cluny Brown," the 20th Century-Fox film opening today at the York Theatre. In addition to being the first picture to co-star the suave Boyer with Academy Award Winner Jennifer Jones, "Cluny Brown" is the first film since the memorable "Heaven Can Wait" that Lubitsch, the sly genius of sophisticated romantic comedy, has both produced and directed. The outstanding supporting cast of the picture is headed by Peter Lawford and includes Helen Walker, Reginald Gardiner, Reginald Owen and other top names.

ODEON THEATRE The original novel "The Crowthers of Bankdam," by Thomas Armstrong, was of a length which a film could not possibly encompass in two hours; but Walter Forde and his cast have succeeded superbly in capturing the spirit and atmosphere of the book while restricting their scope to the period 1854-1890. The show is now at the Odeon Theatre and stars Anne Crawford and Dennis Price as a humble mill-lass and the young Crowther she marries are quite delightful as lovers and wedded lovers. Tom Walls is the very spirit of Yorkshire as old Simeon Crowther—a magnificent performance in the finest role he has ever had.

RIO THEATRE Woven around an exciting romance of the early mining days in what was then Utah Territory, RKO Radio's latest Western, "Nevada," which ends tonight at the Rio Theatre, tells of the discovery of the world-famous Comstock Lode. Robert Mitchum, a brand new outdoor star, has the top role in this film version of the Zane Grey novel, and Anne Jeffreys, Nancy Gates, Guinn "Big Boy" Williams, Richard Martin and other well-known players are featured in the thrill-packed offering, which was directed by Edward Killy.

"Captain From Castile" Opens at Royal Friday

When Tyrone Power is shown escaping from a prison in Spain in Darryl F. Zanuck's presentation of "Captain From Castile," which opens Friday at the Royal Theatre, audiences will see the longest prison tunnel ever used in a motion picture. The tunnel, which was erected on the largest sound stage on the Twentieth Century-Fox lot, is 325 feet long and 45 feet high. The lighting used in it during the filming of the sequences of the picture which was photographed in color by Technicolor would be sufficient to furnish illumination for 350 five-room houses with 100-watt bulbs.

CAPITOL THEATRE The Jonkers Diamond is in town—and Garson's got it! But only for a picture. Greer Garson never thought she'd hold one million dollars in her hand. When Daniel Bennett, West Coast representative of the Harry Winston Corporation, owners of the diamond, the world's largest and most perfect stone, brought it to Los Angeles for the California Retail Jewelers' Convention, he showed it to the star. But after watching her emote for her latest picture, "Desire Me," current attraction at the Capitol Theatre, he requested her to wear it. Miss Garson is the only motion picture actress to have that honor.

ATLAS THEATRE LeRoy Prinz turns in one of his heaviest dance directing chores [illegible] color entertainment, "My Wild Irish Rose" starring Dennis Morgan, now showing at the Atlas Theatre. Most of the numbers reflect the period of American vaudeville at the turn of the century and all are given fresh and distinctive treatment.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP).—The stock market entered March today with a general forward swing paced by selected rails and aviations.

While dealings were relatively quiet, volume of 700,000 shares equalled that of Friday which was the best since February 16. Ad- [illegible] points were shaded or erased here and there at the close but plus signs maintained a wide majority.

Air transports enjoyed a speedy last-hour flurry on recommendations of the Joint Congressional Air Policy Board.

Aviation manufacturing issues were popular throughout on revived hopes of big Government orders. Rails benefitted from talk of mergers in this field as well as expanding net income for important roads.

Renewed strength of commodities propped inflationary psychology.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .4 of a point at 61.4, its widest jump since Monday week. Of 911 issues registering, 516 rose and 195 fell.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG, March 1 (CP). — All grain futures prices moved up for fair gains on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, with May rye advancing the maximum ten-cent limit. Strength on the Chicago market provided the incentive for the upturn.

There was fair local and commission house buying for oats and barley, with shipper demand and American interests also in evidence. Offerings were on the light side.

Purchasers for rye found offerings on the light side, causing all months to register sharp gains. Some American interests were evident in rye.

Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, March 1 (CP).—Industrials were steady and base metals showed moderate firmness but golds and Western oils were easier in one of the quietest days in several months on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. The ticker idled throughout the day as trading slowed down to a standstill. Volume was about 500,000 shares.

Newsprints and oils showed mild firmness but utilities and foods were easier among the industrials while the other groups drifted narrowly. Pivotals on the gains side included International Paper, Canadian Celanese, Westons, Walkers, B.A. Oils Pfd., Bank of Commerce, Aluminum, Ford and Goodyear Pfd. Western oils were soft on only a couple of small gains as against half a dozen or more losses.

In golds, senior and junior producers were relatively inactive and few speculatives showed easier tendencies. For the base metals gainers were Hudson Bay, Labrador, New Calumet, Noranda, Normetal, Sherritt and Silver Miller.

London Market

LONDON, March 1 (CP). — The stock market was firm today with trading generally quiet, although tobacco, iron and steel issues were in demand among industrials.

Institutional support was evident for the gilt-edged section, which remained firm, bolstered by money from repayment of the conversion 3 per cent loan.

European bonds were dull and mostly lower, with Austrian 4½s six points easier and Czecho-Slovakian 8 per cents off two points.

OVER the FENCE

BY W. L. MacTavish

"There's one notable fact about the Communists and their fellow-travellers," said the Old Timer this morning. "Anyone who questions their policies or activities in the slightest degree is immediately called a witch-hunter, a red-baiter, or a hidebound reactionary.

"Most of the people I know aren't like that. They are willing to think, even about the things the Communists say, and sometimes those are foolish enough. They are willing to concede the other fellow may know something they don't know, or have thought things through to a different and maybe a worthwhile conclusion. But not the Commies.

"To the Commies and most of their fellow-travellers, everyone who is not with them a hundred per cent, right to the crossing of the last "T" and the dotting of the last "I" is a tool of reaction, a hireling of the big interests, or, at best, a stupid fool.

"I've seen men who were wide awake, earnestly seeking out the faults in our economic system and striving to remedy them, men who were reformers in the truest sense of the word, called reactionaries, and worse, because they couldn't accept the idea that Karl Marx had the complete answer to everything.

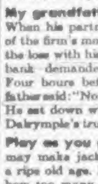

"I've always had the idea that men should think for themselves. To me that's what freedom is. But every last Communist has to accept the doctrine of Karl Marx, and not even as Marx wrote his theories but as they are interpreted by the Kremlin in Moscow. That's why I can't imagine any thinking man, who loves freedom, becoming a Communist or even supporting Communist activities."

Do Frequent Washings Harm Your Hair?
Actual facts prove your hair gets far dirtier than your body
Should you wash your hair only every 3 or 4 weeks?
"Ridiculous," say hair experts. "Your hair picks up more dirt than any other part of the body. It traps dust, soot and grime from the air. You wash your hands several times a day — you should wash your hair at least once a week."
But when you wash your hair, make sure all dirt and dandruff are completely removed from your scalp. Dandruff warns you that dirt, dried skin, etc. have combined with scalp oil and perspiration to form a waxy accumulation lying tightly over your scalp. This chokes off nourishment from your hair. It must be dissolved away if you want healthy, good-looking hair.
Fitch's Dandruff Remover Shampoo is guaranteed to remove dandruff. After it dissolves all dirt and dandruff, Fitch's washes them away in a creamy, stimulating lather. Your scalp is left antiseptically clean because Fitch's Dandruff Remover Shampoo gets right down into the tiny hair openings in the scalp and cleans them out, so your hair can grow lustrous, healthy, and alive-looking.

Loads More Lumber for Britain

—Colonist Photo.

AMONG few freighters now calling at Ogden Point docks to load lumber for United Kingdom prior to expiration of 1947-48 British-Canadian lumber contracts this month, is Ss. Samtucky, pictured above. She loaded 1,070,000 board feet yesterday and sailed in evening for Port Talbot, near north tip of Island, where additional 1,500,000 feet will be loaded before voyage to United Kingdom. Owned by Prince Line Ltd., of London, Eng., freighter is under command of Capt. I. T. Ellis.

Navy Ship in Drydock On Refit Contract

Marine News

Among a number of contracts awarded to Yarrows, Ltd., is the building of a steel deckhouse structure on a large barge of Kingcome Navigation Co., Ltd., of Vancouver, and refit work on board the R.C.N. cruiser H.M.C.S. Uganda.

Reports of the new work for the local shipyard came yesterday from E. W. Izard, general manager. The cruiser entered drydock yesterday, and work will last about a week.

The cableship Restorer returned to her Esquimalt berth at Yarrows yesterday, and if found necessary, any repairs will be handled by that yard. The ship returned from a cable repair job of one month's duration off Honolulu.

Meanwhile finish work is progressing favorably on the Canadian National Steamships' modern liner Prince George. Within a short time the fourth and last 177-foot lighthouse tender being built for the French Government will be launched from the yard's No. 1 plant.

STEEL OUTPUT UP

OTTAWA, March 1 (CP).—Production of steel ingots and steel castings in January totaled 256,700 net tons, an increase of nearly 3 per cent over last year's corresponding total of 249,800 tons, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Paris Gold Price Reaches New High

PARIS, March 1 (AP).—The price of gold reached a high in Paris today after the biggest advance and heaviest trading since the free gold market was opened February 4.

The 20-dollar gold eagle jumped to 22,222 francs and closed at 22,000 from a previous closure of 20,500 Friday. The 20-franc French louis jumped from 4,100 to 4,400, the sovereign from 5,250 to 5,675, the Swiss louis from 3,975 to 4,100—all highs—from one closing to the next.

BOMBING LOSSES

During the war 4,000,000 houses in Britain were destroyed or damaged by bombs, and total destruction amounted to $6,800,000,000.

Building Tops 1947 Total In Esquimalt

Building permits issued by the Esquimalt building department during February totaled $61,950, it was reported yesterday by Edmund Fulcher, superintendent of works. This figure is more than $25,000 greater than the total for February, 1947.

Fifteen permits were issued in Esquimalt last month, as compared with ten taken out during the same month a year ago. Total value of new dwellings for which permits were issued in February was $59,700, the report stated.

Total value of the permits issued so far this year is $100,675, a large increase over last year's figures for the same period of $70,775.

In his report to be submitted to the municipal council tonight, Mr. Fulcher recommended that a sidewalk be installed on Head Street, from Gore to Lyall Street. Approximately 200 feet of asphalt sidewalk would cost $850, he said, while a gravel walk for the same distance would cost $40.

Mr. Fulcher will also report that the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd., and the Canadian Line Materials will install one of the "lights with the new look" opposite the Municipal Hall so that members of the council could determine its value.

Canada Fisheries Grow

WASHINGTON, March 1 (CP).—Representative Schuyler O. Bland (Dem., Va.) has published in the Congressional record a protest against waning interest in United States fisheries, while Canada, "our chief competitor, is reorganizing and expanding."

Bland put into the record the text of a speech made by Fisheries Minister Mackinnon in Quebec early in February, and a comment on it issued by the National Fisheries Institute of Washington, D.C.

"While our appropriations for and interest in our fisheries seem to be in the process of reduction, our competitors North of us are increasing their expenditures," Bland said.

"All that Mr. Mackinnon advocates for Canada applies all the more to us."

The fisheries institute commented that for lack of funds the Fish and Wild Life Service can no longer mail the daily market reports; that the service—"the main Government unit servicing our fisheries industry"—was "struggling along . . . on barely half the appropriation they had last year." And that trained personnel had to be dropped.

"What a parallel—Canada expands while United States shrinks," commented Bland.

MANY DROWNED

SHANGHAI, March 1 (Reuters).—One hundred and sixty passengers and crew were reported today to have been drowned when a Chinese passenger ship sailing between Amoy and Chingchiang in Southern Fukien Province, sank yesterday.

Chinese newspapers reporting the sinking said the ship capsized after "pirates" disguised as passengers caused panic among the 360 persons on board.

LONG BRIDGE

The longest bridge in Europe is in Sweden connecting Zealand and Falster, a distance of two miles.

Add Four Men To Works Staff

At the request of Edmund Fulcher, works superintendent, four more men have been added to the Esquimalt public works department staff, Reeve A. I. Thomas said yesterday.

Mr. Fulcher stated the added staff was needed to undertake a number of projects for which materials are being held. Jobs to be done include the completion of a program of new street signs, minor sidewalk and drainage projects and some sewer repairs.

Pick Tide Line-Up To Oppose Aussies

Selectors Make Few Changes in Team For Saturday's International Match

The Victoria Rugby Union selection committee decided to keep a winning combination intact as far as possible when it named all but a few members of the Victoria Crimson Tide side which has two straight triumphs to its credit in McKechnie Cup play to oppose the famous Australian Wallabies at Macdonald Park Saturday.

Tom McKeachie, who can be expected to chalk up points for Victoria if given any penalty kick attempts close to the visitors' line, has been selected to occupy the fullback spot again.

ART HICKS SELECTED

For wingers, the team will have Frank Gower and Art Hicks, a pair of speedy runners with no mean tackling ability. Hicks will be making his first start in a Tide uniform. He formerly played for Vancouver Rowing Club and U.B.C. fifteens.

Centre three-quarter position show a change with Dick Chungranes moving in from the wing to pair up with Harry Olsen. Jimmy Ranson has been listed as a spare. The Chungranes-Olsen combination was deemed the best available for the match against the Aussies.

BIDDLE IS CAPTAIN

George Biddle will captain the squad from his important position at stand-off half, while Geoff Easum will have the job of snaring the ball from scrums and feeding the threes.

Veteran Al Buckler will be retained as "hook," and big Jack Stevens and Harry Dowrs will flank him in the front rank of the scrum.

The Tide will use the 3-4-1 pack formation employed by the Aussies.

Albie Williams and Ian Turner are billed for lock positions and Dave Crockett and Bob Dunlop will be break forwards. Cliff Denham, who is also making his first appearance this year with the red-jerseyed crew, is listed for the tail-up role.

Ron Dakers along with Ranson will act as spares, rounding out the 17-man team allowed under Twickenham rules. Two substitutions will be allowed before but not including half-time under a special ruling granted the Aussies for the Canadian tour. Permission for substitution is given only for injury and is granted by the referee.

Noted for their fighting ability, a characteristic evident in the two victories gained over Vancouver Lions and U.B.C. Thunderbirds this season, the Tide may come up with a surprising performance. This at any rate is the hope of the selection committee, composed of Capt. E. D. W. Levien, Doug Bray, Coach Campbell Forbes and Bob Wallace who considered all angles during a long session last night before making their final selections.

Bill Gornall has been assigned the job of handling the whistle. One Australian and one Victorian will work the lines.

In preparation for the international match, Coach Forbes has called practices at Macdonald Park tonight and Thursday at 7 p.m. for his 17 proteges.

Wallabies Vice-Captain Goes Over for Try

TREVOR Allan, Wallabies vice-captain is seen scoring first try of game after brilliant run in match against London Counties played at Twickenham, England. Centre of English Rugby world touring Australians were beaten, 14-8—one of six losses in 35 matches played in the British Isles. Counties player has vainly tried to stop Aussie scorer who has Art Tonkin, Wallabies speed merchant, right on hand. Both Allan, who took over captaincy of club when W. M. McLean, captain, was injured during tour, and Tonkin will likely see action when Australians play Victoria Crimson Tide here at Macdonald Park on Saturday. Allan plays centre three-quarter while Tonkin, reported by Victoria spectators at last Saturday's match against Vancouver Lions to be amazingly fast, is a winger.

Score Wins In Grid Tilts

J.B.A.A. and Oak Bay Gremlins marked up triumphs in six-man American football games played at Central Park on Sunday. The Gassers defeated Oak Bay Goblins 13-7 and the Gremlins trimmed St. Louis College 20-13.

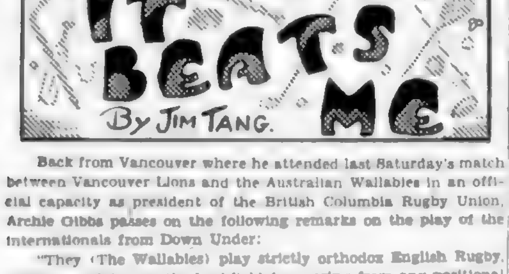

[illegible] paved the way for J.B.A.A.'s first tally when he intercepted McLaren's pass and ran to the Goblin 40-yard line before being brought down. On the next play he tossed a 25-yard aerial to Milligan for the score. Lindon raced over for the extra point.

Goblins squared matters in the third period with McLaren passing to Henderson for the major score and then to Hope for the convert.

Bays marched down the field from their own 10-yard line to the Goblin 20-yard mark, from where Tom Ballard skirted around end on a reverse from Dale for the winning touchdown.

Long runs highlighted the other tilt. College took a 7-6 margin in the first period on Bernie Clarkson's touchdown and a conversion on a pass from French to O'Brien. Auchinvole counted Gremlins' major on an aerial from Johnson. Higgs put Gremlins in front in the second canto with a 40-yard run and Clarkson squared matters from the kick-off as he raced 95 yards for the score.

Johnson passed to Olsen for the winning touchdown after a 98-yard march down the field by the Gremlins. Higgs took Johnson's pass for the convert.

Back from Vancouver where he attended last Saturday's match between Vancouver Lions and the Australian Wallabies in an official capacity as president of the British Columbia Rugby Union, Archie Gibbs passes on the following remarks on the play of the internationals from Down Under:

"They (The Wallabies) play strictly orthodox English Rugby, definitely relying on the backfield for scoring from any positional play. From tight and loose scrums and from the line-outs, the ball goes back to the halves or threes, and every handler is adequately supported.

"The forwards are fast and virile and go low to tackle. They are also extremely adept at picking up loose balls to initiate handling movements. They have no advantage of extra height in the line-outs, but jump and gather well, invariably dropping the ball for a loose scrum with a heel to the elusive Burke, one of the most versatile scrum handlers that I have seen. In the tight, the scrum controls the ball by careful heeling, and Burke is always there to take it and get it away.

"The five-eighths and centres handle and pass perfectly. They use the short-passing game and draw their opponents well, releasing their passes so that they usually avoid tackles and are able to continue in the attack as the drive progresses. They understand the blind-side play perfectly, and on one occasion outwitted the Vancouver defence to allow Burke to romp the length of the field and place the ball between the posts."

Gibbs was impressed by Tonkin and McBride, the two wings. Both are fast and powerful and have a deceptive change of pace. He passes along a word of warning to fans to be at the grounds early. Late-arriving spectators at Vancouver jammed the entrances so that almost 1,000 of them missed the opening kick-off. He notes that the backfield, which started against the famous Welsh Barbarians, was the same with one exception as the one which faced the Lions.

$3,800 Allotted To Improve Athletic Park

Improvements to Royal Athletic Park to cost $3,800 were authorized by the City Council yesterday.

In presenting the recommendation, Ald. M. Aubrey Kent, parks committee chairman, said the improvements had been requested by the Victoria Baseball and Athletic Company Ltd.

The arrangement with the company had been one of the "few bright spots" in the parks department, he said. The city had spent a total of $41,000 on the park since 1945 and has received back in revenue $25,000. Revenues have exceeded $7,000 annually, he noted.

Improvements to be undertaken are provision of enlarged dressing rooms $2,200, storage room for concessions $800, new concession booth $500, and bracing of the bleachers $300.

Fighter Takes First Air Tests

LOS ANGELES, March 1 (AP)—The United States forces' new four-jet fighter, comparable in weight to the famous Flying Fortress bomber, made its first flight test today.

The XP-87 built by Curtiss Aircraft at Columbus, Ohio, remained aloft for more than an hour, and its maiden hop was pronounced a success.

The XP-87 is reported to be the biggest fighter plane ever built, weighing only slightly less than the B-17 Fortress. It is designed to travel in the 600-mile-an-hour range, and its service ceiling is more than 35,000 feet. Its range is 1,500 miles.

Mort Cooper Retires

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 1 (AP)—Pitcher Mort Cooper today asked New York Giants for voluntary retirement.

Horace Stoneham, president of the club, said the request would be granted.

The Giants obtained the 34-year-old pitcher from Boston Braves last year in a trade for Pitcher Bill Voiselle. Cooper won three games and lost ten last season.

Brentwood Aces Capture Lower Island Cage Title

In one of the most rugged basketball games seen at the Victoria High School gymnasium in many a day, Brentwood Aces defeated Duncan Canadian Legion 57-47 to overcome a one-point deficit in the total-point series and lift the Lower Island senior "B" crown. Duncan took the first tilt 30-29.

A large crowd, which included a big contingent from Duncan, kept the gym in a constant uproar as the teams battled hard. Several near fights threatened as a result of the heavy checking and at one stage in the first period, punches were thrown but the game was restarted before any serious damage was done. Despite the rugged going the teams dished up some good basketball.

Aces took a 13-9 lead at the quarter. An 18-point splurge in the second canto put the winners in front 31-22 at the half. A nine-point effort by Prest in the third period put Duncan within four points on the series at the three-quarter mark as the Brentwood lead was cut to 42-37. Brentwood sewed the game up in the early part of the final period as they counted three easy baskets on breakaways.

Dink Pearson was the star for the visitors. The rangy bucketman took scoring honors with 19 points and was followed by Prest with 15. Lou McCorkall topped the winners with 14.

EAGLETTES WIN

Eaglettes broke away in the dying minutes to defeat Comets 34-25 and take the girls' intermediate "A" title. They won the first game of the best-of-three series but dropped the second. Comets threatened to pull the game out of the fire in the final canto and closed the gap to 24-20 but faded badly in the dying minutes.

SPENCERS, LEGION LEAD

Spencers took a 15-point lead in the boys intermediate "B" Lower Island final, defeating Duncan, 38-23, in the first game of a two-game total-point series.

Explains Why Flyers Asked Back Earlier

OTTAWA, March 1 (CP).—Defence Minister Claxton said in a statement tonight that the R.C.A.F. Flyers had been requested to return to Canada from Europe earlier than originally planned because "it is our desire to get them home while people still remember they are Olympic hockey champions."

"Also, if they stayed longer, people would be saying they are playing just for expenses or that they are being exploited for commercial purposes."

Accordingly, a message was sent to the team last week suggesting it return about March 20.

Word was received today that shipping accommodation is not available before March 31, so the Flyers will sail on that date under an arrangement made in conjunction with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

The original schedule called for the champions to play exhibition games in Europe and then in Britain until April 10.

Earlier George Dudley, C.A.H.A. secretary said in Midland that curtailment of the European exhibition tour would be "a black eye for Canada."

However, Mr. Claxton spoke to Mr. Dudley on the telephone and the minister said following this conversation that the new arrangements for the March 31 return are satisfactory to the C.A.H.A. secretary.

Dodgers Sign Reese, Stanky

BROOKLYN, March 1 (AP).—Branch Rickey brought two star Brooklyn Dodger holdouts to terms today—Shortstop Pee Wee Reese and Second Baseman Eddie Stanky.

Stanky was reported to have demanded a $20,000 contract. He got around $14,000 last year and probably signed at a figure midway between these two.

Reese is reported to get close to $20,000 and is top Brooklyn man in pay or close to it.

Signing of Reese and Stanky leaves only Catcher Bruce Edwards missing from the roster.

Game Club to Meet

Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Boilermakers Hall tonight at 8 o'clock.

Canadian Legion Trims Wests To Take Soccer League Title

A sustained attack that netted them three goals in the first 10 minutes of the game carried the Canadian Legion senior soccer eleven to a 6-2 triumph over Victoria West at Royal Athletic Park on Sunday and gave them the Garrison Cup, emblematic of the league championship.

The young Wests eleven had trouble holding the Vets' offensive in the early part of the game, and George McCartney, George Pickup and Midge Pennington went through for goals before the Greenshirts settled down.

Gordie Cooper notched losers' first goal off a penalty kick at the 20-minute mark and Bill Hope cut the margin to 3-2 shortly after with a long shot that eluded Holt, in the Legion net.

Vets went on another three-goal scoring spree following the intermission. McCartney found the net for his second marker and Pennington boosted his day's total to three by counting the last two. His final tally was the prettiest of the match as he went through alone and picked the lower corner of the net.

Dallimore netted the final West counter late in the game, when his long shot deflected off a Legion back into the net.

Schedule Trophy Competitions In Victoria Gun Club Program

Plans were made for 1948 trophy competitions at a meeting of the Victoria Gun Club last week. March 7 was set as the opening date for trap and skeet layout shoots and a full schedule approved.

The meeting placed emphasis on the desire to encourage younger marksmen.

[illegible] tournament featuring the [illegible] championship, which attracts scattergun marksmen from all over the Northwest, will be held on July 10 and 11.

In addition to last year's trophies, the H. A. Humber and Colonist trophies for traps, the C.I.L. Shield for skeets, the E. D. Todd gold medallion for the longest straight run at the traps and the Dr. F. D. Hetchel Cup for the longest straight run on the skeet ranges, marksmen will have a new award for which to vie.

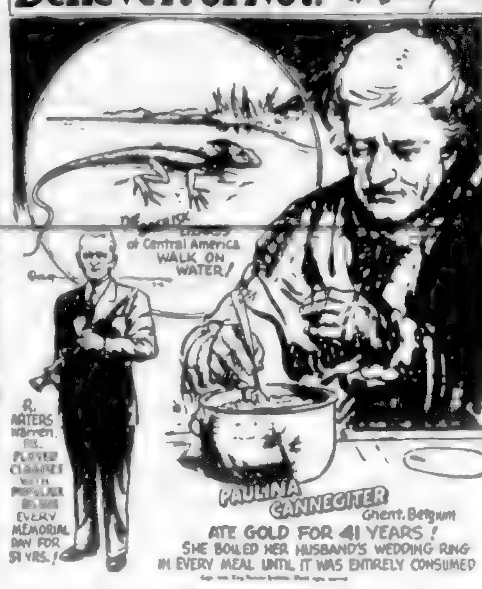

F. D. Todd has presented gold buttons for challenge competition. They will be competed for at the opening shoot and the holders will defend against all challenge there after. It was decided to secure silver medallions for classes B and C competition.

To qualify for the Horton Shield which will be shot for at the 16-foot mark, members must have shot at 750 targets and competed in at least seven shoots.

Schedule follows:

March 7, skeet; March 21, trap; April 4, skeet; April 18, trap; May 2, skeet; May 12, Winchester exhibition; May 16, trap; May 30, skeet; June 13, trap; June 27, skeet; July [illegible] 25, trap; August 8, skeet; August 22, trap; September 5, skeet; September 26, trap; October 24, skeet; November 7, last leg of trap competitions; November 21, last leg of skeet competition; December 5, shoot-off for all trophies in the event of ties; December 19, annual Christmas shoot and December 26, Boxing Day special.

In regard to the contest for the new Todd buttons the donor said that on the opening day there will be no change of partners, but that this would be permissible thereafter.

YESTERDAY I said to the O.P., "I think I'll go up to the garage and change the plates." "O.K.," she replied, "but be careful of those numbers I had to stand in the long snuff to get 'em, and they turn green awfully fast." ... I saw one today, all green ... it sure would be hard to read." "Well ... I'll be careful ... don't you worry." I had a screwdriver and a pr. of pliers and started in ... well ... do YOU think I could turn that little nut ... NO SIR ... nothing would budge ... then I got the hammer ... but NO SIR ... then I got the Ratchet ... but NO SIR ... then I went back to the screwdriver and hammer and banged big holes right thru the Bolt ... and the fool thing clattered on the floor and I cut my finger and I was smeared with oil, rust and grime. Then when I sincerely picked up the new plate I had such big holes in the car that I couldn't find any washer big enuff to hold the plate on ... it looked like I'd received a couple of broadsides from the Uganda or something ... so I found some old chicken wire and finally got the fool thing hung on. Then I went around to the front, but I'll be darned if I could find any bracket for a plate, and because I was out of chicken wire I just tied it on the front bumper with string. I limped back to port and put in at the kitchen door, and came on, haunted on the poop deck, while all my tools fell around me on the floor, and the O.P. rushed for the Band Aid and the girls made a big fuss over me, and the cat came up and wound itself around my legs, and I was given a big mug of steaming coffee and all I had was "We won!" But we didn't get much for our $16.00.

MOTOR COURT, STORE OR BUSINESS
HERE'S YOUR CHOICE

An outstanding bargain in a grocery, confectionery and general city store. A business that will stand the closest investigation and operated by the owner for the past 14 years. It carries a very large stock and premises are large and well heated. The present volume averages well over $5,000 per month with a very high markup. Excellent opportunity for expansion. Large living quarters are also available and the tenancy is excellent. The present owners are anxious to sell and are prepared to do business for only $15,000

Motor court and trailer camp, well situated on the Island Highway. Contains eight modern units and property equipped trailer accommodation. These units are well furnished with expensive furniture and command a good rate of rental. The income from this court should be well over $10,000 this year and it is being offered at the low price of $32,000

Completely equipped apartment building. Five suites of three rooms each, in a building with all the necessaries. Hot water, oil furnace, refrigerators, electric stoves and fireplaces. Hardwood floors, garages, lockers, good clotheslines. Situated in very good district close to transportation. Overhead low and property in excellent condition. One suite will be vacant for the new owner and the revenue at the present time is a gross of $3,336 per annum. Present rentals are very nominal, being based on prewar rates and as there is no chance of them being reduced. An excellent opportunity for someone looking for a small home with a tidy income each month, yet not tied to an apartment which needs a lot of service. The asking price is $31,000, but it is essential that this property be sold immediately.

From Colonist Correspondents

COURTENAY HAS MODERN PROVINCIAL POLICE STATION

Up-to-date building of Provincial Police Headquarters on Cliffe Avenue at Courtenay is pictured above. Detachment has outstanding record in police work on Island. Members of detachment are Sgt. A. T. Lashmar, Constables E. Corson, J. M. Ehly, F. L. Cawdell, Malcolm Matheson and R. P. Harrison, radio operator.

Modern Woodward Store Opened By Port Alberni Mayor, Dignitaries

PORT ALBERNI, March 1.—Demonstrating an unbounded faith in the future of the Alberni district, the new department store of Woodward's Ltd. opened here this morning with Hon. W. C. Woodward, president of the firm, in attendance as well as other dignitaries.

The ceremony of officially cutting the ribon to open the store was performed by Mayor L. K. Jordan of Port Alberni with Mayor J. V. Hills of Alberni also present as well as other councillors.

Other notable visitors here for the occasion were Mrs. W. C. Woodward, P. A. Woodward, vice-president, J. W. Butterfield, general manager, and Garfield Weston of Vancouver.

Upwards of 1,000 people stood patiently at the main entrance awaiting the ceremony, after which the store doors were thrown open and people poured through, soon crowding the interior.

The new Woodward store here is one of the most modern in the Woodward organization. It is painted throughout in a light ivory and flourescent lighting, diffused with grills.

On the lower main floor are the huge grocery and provisions departments, with delicatessen. Hardware, china and like goods are on this floor as well as a 50-stool lunch counter.

Main floor contains ladies' fashion departments, men's furnishings, drugs and stationery and dry-goods.

On the first floor are furniture and rugs and general offices.

Special departments have been put in for parcelling and wrapping, with separate counters for delivery goods and mail delivery orders.

Air conditioning has been installed under most modern system, with roof fans.

The food department has no turnstiles in the self-service department. Some of the food carriers for customers have space for small children.

The store contains its own bakery and a lunch counter.

In addition to general manager,

HON. W. C. WOODWARD

John Kenneth Whyte, a native of Vancouver Island, there are 13 departmental managers, all of whom have made homes here.

Sixty-nine tons of equipment went into the sprinkler system which protects the store from fire and there are in the neighborhood of 1,000 sprinkler outlets.

A cantilever canopy goes entirely around the store, with the same distance overhanging the street as is inside.

High on the building are installed two huge tanks of 10,000 gallon capacity for the sprinkler system.

Fire Threatens Nanaimo Arena

NANAIMO, March 1.—A fire of undetermined origin for a time threatened the Civic Arena here Sunday and caused extensive damage to the engineroom.

Firemen donned gas masks before fighting their way into the room to quell the blaze. The Arena was built at a cost of $300,000 and was the site of a hockey game attended by 2,000 Saturday night. The building was locked up by two employees after the game.

Although the fire was confined to the engineroom area, damage was extensive and a row of seats was scorched, according to Fire Chief James Anthony. An investigation will probably be conducted.

Nanaimo Asks Reduction For Schools Estimates

NANAIMO, March 1.—City Council meeting tonight considered school estimates "excessive and beyond the means of the municipality," and passed a resolution the school board reduce the estimates by at least $15,000. (The total estimates amounted to $221,733.55.)

The council will endeavor to enter into an agreement with the trustees to submit the question to arbitration, should the trustees refuse to make the desired reduction. If consent of the trustees to arbitration is not given by March 10, Mayor G. Muir pointed out, the city, under the School Act, has the power to demand a board of arbitration, on or before March 15.

A recommendation received from the executive of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities that they refuse to grant estimates of school boards until definite word is received from the Government as to financial help was fully endorsed.

All members of the Nanaimo Parks Board paid the council a surprise visit, but not until Mayor Muir had levelled some criticism of the park boards method of "getting things done." The board had written three letters to the council. One pointed out that a drain on Haliburton Street needed repair immediately, as it was flooding where a bus stopped for passengers. Another letter told of a leaking roof at the restroom. His Worship designated these letters as "petty things," which should be taken up with officials of the city and not by written advice to the council.

Council adopted a resolution that in future all tag days will only be granted to organizations for charitable purposes, and not for funds for their own use.

Mount Newton School Gets Higher Rating

KEATING, March 1.—According to word received from the Department of Education by Principal A. E. Vogee, Mount Newton School, recently re-classified as a junior-senior high school, has been given the distinction of an accredited high school.

Such classification is granted for the current year only and has been the result of satisfactory standards in teaching, administration and school organization.

Much good work has been done during the last two years by the Saanich School Board in improving accommodation and equipment for instruction in home economics, industrial arts, and commercial subjects. The new classification of the school also calls for the provision of adequate facilities for physical education and library.

Because of the school's new classification, it is now possible for the staff to recommend students for entrance into the university without writing customary departmental examinations in June.

Board Chairman Cites Need Of New Island Hospital Wing

GANGES March 1.—Increasing necessity for a new wing "as soon as possible," to the Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital was stressed by Mrs. Warren Hastings, chairman of the hospital board, in her report to the annual general meeting in Mahon Hall.

"With the fast-growing population of the Island, the situation is becoming more acute," she declared.

Mrs. Hastings said that there was no children's ward in the hospital, and with 500 youngsters among the population of Salt Spring Island, "the need is quite obvious."

"The board and I, along with the doctors and matron," said the chairman, "have decided that the time has come when this alteration is absolutely necessary. It may take time, but it has to be done. Amount needed is $10,000 of which the Government will contribute one-third."

An all-out campaign for funds will be started May 1, said Mrs. Hastings, and before that time a house-to-house collection will be taken.

DEFICIT LOWERED

It was also reported that hospital's deficit had been lowered to $100; an adequate fire escape had been erected; the hot water system renewed with copper piping throughout and other repairs and renovations made. made.

Secretary-treasurer W. A. Brown read the financial report for the year ending December 1947. Receipts amounted to $18,966.08, expenditures $19,100.03, an increase of revenue over the preceding year of $3,643.76, but the cost of operating increased by $4,936.36. Plimley's Announce Appointment of C. J. Meredith

The appointment of C. J. Meredith as general superintendent of Thomas Plimley, Ltd., was announced today by Manager Louis Michelin.

Mr. Meredith comes to Thomas Plimley, Ltd., direct from the Packard Motor Car Co. of Canada, where he was factory representative for parts and service for Western Canada, covering the territory from Port William to Victoria. He brings with him a wealth of experience in the automobile field which he has gained through years in the business, starting as a mechanic on the bench and rising to his present high position. During his five and a half years in the army Mr. Meredith rose to the rank of major and was one of the first officers called to Ottawa for the formation of the 1st Canadian Base Ordnance Workshop in England, which had a complement of 4,000 men.

NEW CUSTOMER SERVICE PLANNED

Automobile owners who deal at Thomas Plimley Ltd. receive the full benefit of Mr. Meredith's knowledge of automobile mechanics. He says Plimley's have one of the most up-to-date and best equipped garages he has seen in his travels across Canada and are in a position to do any operation on any type of automobile or truck.

At present he is organizing a new system to take care of customers' cars as quickly as possible with the highest grade of workmanship. Each car will be assigned to one mechanic who will look after it whenever it is in the garage. In this way, mechanics will familiarize themselves with the customers' car and see that work that should be done is checked and should not have to be repeated.

TOOK SPECIAL COURSE AT FACTORY

When Mr. Meredith returned to Packard Motor Car Co. of Canada, after his discharge from the army, he took a special course at the factory. He spent one month getting a full inside knowledge of all departments which included business management, accounting, schooling and engineering.

He plans special training schools for mechanics at Plimley's and the other Austin and Packard dealers on the Island.

Prior to going to Packard, Mr. Meredith was asked by Brigadier Secord, under whom he served overseas at the 1st Canadian Base Ordnance Workshop, if he would take over as general service manager for Hertz Drive Urself in Toronto. This firm operates 426 vehicles.

C. J. MEREDITH, General Superintendent

VALUABLE ARMY SERVICE

The first year of his army service Mr. Meredith organized the workshops in Debert, N.S. He was then called to Ottawa, where he spent three months helping to organize and purchase equipment for the 1st Canadian Base Ordnance Workshop. On completion of this job he was sent to Camp Borden, Ont., as officer commanding a company to proceed overseas to set up the workshops in Bordon, England.

In England he became officer commanding of the first Bordon Detachment with 200 men. At this time they were turning out 20 Chevrolet and Ford motors a week. Soon this company increased to 400 men turning out 425 Chevrolet and Willys motors a week and in addition 70 Wright Whirlwind Continental motors for Ram tanks, 10 Chrysler Sherman tank motors, and five Diesel engines each week.

The workshop grew to have a complement of 4,000 men, able to repair anything, from an intricate watch to a tank.

Mr. Meredith was sent to Africa, during the African campaign, to study workshops in action and was flown to Belgium and Holland to help set up workshops there.

While in the British Isles he inspected workshops in Ireland, the War Ministry, Salisbury Plains, the Dagenham Ford Factory, Chilwell Motor Shop, and the Norton Motorcycle shops in Nottingham.

WITH PACKARD BEFORE THE WAR

Before the war Mr. Meredith was general service manager and factory representative for the Montreal branch of Packard Motor Car Co. of Canada, and his territory took in all dealers from Ottawa to Prince Edward Island. Before becoming general service manager he worked in every phase of the service department and was a mechanic at the bench for nine years.

He served his apprenticeship as a machinist with the Canadian Locomotive Works, Kingston, Ont.

LUCKY FOR LOVE

CHAPTER XXI

In a man's room that matched the dignity and comfort of the study, Al Martino was at ease in a great cushioned chair with a hassock before it, which allowed him to stretch out practically at full length. He was dressing a wine-colored dressing gown and brown Morocco slippers.

"Hi Dutchess," he called, as Marilyn stepped into the room. "Welcome to our six-room bachelor quarters. How do you like the haberdashery? He fingered the lapels of the dressing gown, wiggled his toes in the Morocco slippers. "Pretty smooth, eh? Compliments of Mr. Bruce Gordon who wears 'em when I'm not around. Say, Little One, you're looking right chi-chi yourself. Where'd you find the cute headpiece?"

"Al," tears were in Marilyn's eyes, "You're all right? You're not in—in pain?"

"Me in pain!" Al scouted the idea. "Listen, Dutchess, I'm reposing on a bed of roses. I've always wondered how the upper half live. Now I know. Gordon's a right guy. He treats me like his college pal, not a lug who got mowed down in a night club."

"But Al, you look so pale. Are you sure——"

"Sure I'm sure. I'm always pale up at this time of year. Remind me to tell you the name of the texture cream I use. Gordon tells me he's taking you to dinner, as I said, he's a right guy—too right maybe. Run along now and take your truffles. Have a truf or two on me. And stop worrying about Blondie. I'll have some news for you about the late Queen of Beauty tomorrow."

Marilyn does not remember much of that first dinner with Bruce Gordon except it was of such things as dreams are made of, and that this was a dream come true. The scene was one of those small but beautifully appointed restaurants off Park Avenue, specializing in choice food and string music. The cuisine was French, Marilyn's first bout with culinary art that has made France famous the world over. A light wine, refreshing and fragrant, was served but she took only a few sips, distrusting even its fragrance after what had befallen her sister Clara who seemed to have fallen completely beneath its spell. The music was muted, tender, designed to touch the heart and the imagination.

They lingered at the table until the late supper guests began to arrive from theaters and concert, unconscious of the time, of everything except the small white island of napery between them flooded by the glow from a rose-shaded candle.

Marilyn awoke to the realization that the tables were filling again, that she had, quite involuntarily, told Bruce Gordon the entire story of how Lady Luck had come to the house of Marsh in Millville, first with the title of Queen of Beauty for Clara, then with the Clarco award for herself. Eloquently but without benefit of camouflage, she had drawn for this man who had the gift of understanding, of appreciation, the picture of the shabby gray house in its brave new coat of white paint, of Mums and Dad, of young brother Bill. It was a simple picture simply sketched, filled in with colors of love, of longing, of regret.

"Mercy," Marilyn said, appalled by her own lack of restraint, "we must have been here for hours."

Bruce Gordon smiled, that slow smile that made her heart act so queerly. He said, "I don't think so. We've been here a few minutes. Would you like to go on, dance perhaps, or have a bite of supper?"

"The way I gabbled, I've probably worn you down to a nub," Marilyn said. "I've practically told you the story of my life—such a drab an important story too."

"A very human story. A vital story, to me. You're living it bravely. Go on living it that way."

"I don't feel brave, "Marilyn confessed. "I feel sort of frightened, and helpless."

"What? So soon? Why your story has only begun. Remember, it will be no better, no worse, than you write it."

"I know. The Moving Finger on—— Which reminds me that I'd better be moving toward a stretch of sleep if I'm to do more than take up space in the Clarco Company offices. I've been a total loss ever since Mr. Dawson employed me. I'm afraid Miss Cook thinks so too."

"Cookie's a good sort," Bruce Gordon said. "A martinet maybe but that's her training, her temperment, Underneath she's a hundred per cent fair, and right. Sure you wouldn't like to barge about a while longer? We haven't sampled each other's dancing yet, you know."

"My loss, I'm sure. But I really must be turning in. It's been such a perfect evening — thanks — for everything."

At her hotel Bruce Gordon paused only long enough to hold Marilyn's hand with lingering pressure that was infinitely more thrilling than words or look could be.

"Marilyn," he asked, his voice vibrant with appeal, "your story—would you—will you write me into it? Try me for a few chapters. You can drop me out if you find I don't fit."

The next day in the Clarco offices was uneventful. Again Marilyn felt she was being scrutinized from time to time by Edna Cook from her vantage point of authority. She did not see Bruce. She found herself repeating the name in her mind—Bruce, Bruce, Bruce, such a dear name. She found, too, that the approach of an office boy bearing one of the inevitable memos caused her to suspend breathing until he had passed. Censure from Miss Cook? A message from Bruce? None of them stopped at her desk. Lull in the storm.

Al Martino was pacing the lobby when Marilyn reached her hotel.

"Welcome home, Duchess," he said, whisking Marilyn onto the terrace and depositing her at a table. "Personally, I escaped from my mink-lined castle for the nonce and galloped here on my snow-white steed to give you a nip 'o news. Don't look so disapproving. I'm oke. The Doc says so. What I want to relay to you is that Blondie, the swiftly bulging Beauty Queen, is opening at the Blue Parrot tonight. She's planning to get out there and knock the populace prostrate. I had the news from one of the Metropole's first-line scouts. She's prancing into the spotlight as the new hick hope for international beauty champion. Can you tie it? Herman the Hess must have paid plenty for that spot."

Marilyn said, trying to compose herself, and failing, "Al, please tell me what you're talking about. I understand only every sixth word."

Municipal Briefs Of the District

Mayor Percy E. George yesterday added Ald. Cabeldu as a member of the civic service committee.

Council approved a grant to the Victoria Branch of the Canadian Red Cross of $2,000.

The city building department has issued permits to W. Kent for a four-room house at 315 Langford Street to cost $6,000 and to J. Worthington for alterations to stores at 531-3 Herald Street to cost $1,000.

W. J. Hamilton has been named a fence viewer to replace Fred Butterfield, who died recently. The council will hold an election at its next meeting to replace Mr. Butterfield on the town planning commission.

War Amputations Association has asked the City Council to support a request that pension for totally disabled persons should be increased to $100 a month.

Request of Carew Martin, K.C., acting on behalf of the Sisters of the Society for the Love of Jesus, for rezoning of properties at 701 Sea Terrace and 442 Barnard Avenue to permit use of buildings for a home for aged persons was referred to the zoning committee without recommendation by the council. Meanwhile work on the project is to cease.

City solicitor, lands commissioner and city engineer have been instructed to report on a request of the Victoria Truth Centre for tax exemption on its property at 1201 Fort Street.

Ald. Hunter has advised the council that "traffic buttons" on the streets are gradually being taken out but some cannot be removed until street car tracks are taken up.

Tax collections for the first two months this year are up $16,000 over the same period last year, according to the assessor-collector.

Council has agreed to turn over the city's share of the gate receipts from the first two games of the McGavin Cup series to the Injured Players' Fund. The request was made by the Victoria and District Football League.

Mrs. P. Moore, 2607 Wark Street, has written to Mayor Percy George asking that supervision be provided for the Ellice Street playground. She described the voluntary work done by the people of the neighborhood in clearing the lot and setting up playground equipment.

Ald. Edward Williams has been named City Council representative on the executive of the B.C. Agricultural Association.

Williams Hits Civic Service Department

Attack on the civic service department was launched by Ald. Edward Williams yesterday.

He took exception to the fact that advertisements had appeared in newspapers calling for appointment of two stenographers without the authorization of the City Council.

He claimed, without contradiction by council, that not a single member of the council knew anything about the employment of the stenographers.

Ald. Williams indicated he never had liked the way in which the civic service by-law had operated, complaining that it left council members "completely in the dark" as to what was happening.

He wanted an amendment to the by-law so that "everything" was referred to the council before action was taken and not after.

JUNIOR APPOINTMENTS

A. C. N. Smith, civic service officer, explained that both appointments were junior stenographers to fill vacancies on the present staff. The civic service by-law only required reference to the council when a new post was considered, he said.

Ald. Waldo M. Skillings and M. Aubrey Kent both contended that they did not want to be consulted every time a junior stenographer was hired.

Said Ald. Skillings: "There is too much detail coming to this council now. We have competent department heads."

When Ald. Williams found no support for a motion asking revision of the by-law to bring all appointments before the council he said he presumed the council was satisfied with present arrangements but added:

"But I am still going to fight it all the time."

Meals, Including Story, Cost Local Couples $100

Four of the most expensive meals ever eaten in Victoria, which cost a total of more than $100, were consumed by two local couples in a Chinatown restaurant early last Sunday morning, according to stories told in city police court yesterday morning.

Charged with having liquor in a restaurant, the four had the following explanation which, they contended, showed clearly that they were the victims of circumstances and not lawbreakers at all.

According to one of the men, the group had dropped into a well-known Chinese cafe shortly after midnight for a quiet meal. Having finished their meals and enjoyed a period of well-bred conversation their thoughts turned to home and they left their booth.

One of the men went to locate a taxi-cab while the others waited in the cafe. Returning, the cab hunter told his companions there would be a slight delay, and, rather than stand, the quartette headed back for their recently-vacated booth. However, this being then occupied they sat down in the one next to it.

"GLASSES IGNORED"

Unhappily this particular booth apparently had formerly contained a similar group, but one whose disregard of the law was obvious. On the uncleared table was an assortment of dirty dishes, and four glasses, each containing a small amount of amber liquid.

"Cold tea, no doubt, or perhaps ginger ale," thought the group, as explained to the court by one of the young ladies. The glasses were ignored.

At that moment there happened on the scene two policemen, both evidently from Missouri. They asked several pointed questions, and then invited the two couples to accompany them to the police station.

In court all pleaded not guilty and each gave the same explanation.

Magistrate Henry C. Hall gave their stories due consideration but came to the conclusion they were "too thin."

He fined each of the men $50, the minimum under the Government Liquor Act, but allowed the two women to go on suspended sentences.

Owners Divide Over Proposal For Taxi Board

Question of whether the city should set up a board to regulate the taxi business in Victoria has divided operators into two camps, it was disclosed at the City Council meeting yesterday.

One group has sent a brief to the council asking for installation of meters in all taxis and for the formation of a board to regulate the business.

Yesterday H. W. Davey, K.C., acting for another group of operators, said he had been instructed to oppose the suggestion for a board. He contended it would create a virtual monopoly in the business and would tend to exclude newcomers.

Mr. Davey also objected to the compulsory installation of taxi meters because, he said, it would prevent charging of monthly rates for regular services.

There was considerable doubt, Mr. Davey contended, whether the city had any power to set up the board requested.

Ald. Dr. J. D. Hunter said the city solicitor was looking into the whole question in preparation for drawing up a revised taxi by-law.

City-Airpark Agreement Signed Following Brief Council Debate

Agreement between the city and the Memorial Airpark Association permitting development of the Gordon Head Airpark site, with the provision that the association shall keep the city free from any action for damages, was signed by Mayor Percy E. George yesterday.

The association has posted a cash bond of $2,500.

The mayor's action came after a brief council debate on the issue which resulted in a request that the association submit to the city its plans for development of the site, the names of its directors, and its financial resources.

The mayor had stated he did not want to sign the agreement unless the council was completely satisfied with it. Ald. F. N. Cabeldu and M. Aubrey Kent both considered the city should inquire into the financial ability of the group to carry out development of the airpark.

"STICK TO GUNS"

Ald. Kent suggested the city should proceed carefully. He was afraid there was only a small group of young men interested in the development, and doubted whether they had available the large capital which would be required.

Ald. Edward Williams, pointing out that the preparation of the agreement had already been authorized by the council at a previous meeting, suggested that any objections should have been brought up at that time.

"We shouldn't try to retard these young fellows any further," he declared. "We should stick to our guns and not go backwards."

From the tone of the news reports these days he noted, "we might need a few airports in the future."

Ald. Waldo M. Skillings said he felt very strongly that the association had had enough hindrance. He recalled that the city purchased the property specifically for an airpark.

March Enters Like Lion-- Also Lamb

Victoria had twice as much rain during February as is usual, and sunshine was four hours below normal, according to officials at the Dominion Meteorological Station at Gonzales Hill.

During the month, 5.26 inches fell, which is 2.26 inches above normal. Total precipitation since January 1 was 8.49 inches, 1.24 inches above normal.

The sun shone for 92 hours during February, four hours below normal. Mean temperature for the month was 39 degrees, two degrees below normal.

Maximum temperature was 55 degrees on February 17, and the minimum was 26 degrees on February 6. Minimum on the grass was 22 degrees on February 6 also.

Whether or not March came in like a lion or a lamb was puzzling weather-conscious Victorians. During yesterday there was beautiful sunshine, rain and even a hail storm.

Consequently, it is hard to predict how March will leave.

Some wartime identification badges were marked by secret designs visible only under special light rays.

The month of March is upon us and with Easter approaching fast and early this year, the shop is concentrating a little thought on preparing for the occasion of Mr. Bunny.

Ceremonies Today Will Open "Jubilee" Year for Buildings

At 3 p.m. today His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks will enter the Legislative Building to open the third session of British Columbia's 21st Legislative Assembly.

Col. Banks will be the 11th lieutenant-governor of the Province to Lieutenant-Governor T. R. McInnes formally opened the present Parliament Buildings with a golden key on February 10, 1898.

Fifty years ago, British Columbia's budget was $1,382,046. This year, golden jubilee year of the buildings, is likely to see it multiplied by 50.

Ceremonies this afternoon will follow very much the same pattern as they did half a century ago, with the elite of the Province and the city crowding the floor of the House and the galleries to watch.

There will be little room in the galleries for the "uninvited" public, for with a longer guest list than has been prepared for many years, it has been necessary to take over the front rows of the public galleries for guests holding official invitations.

FOR RUSH SEATS

That leaves just 70 "rush" seats in the galleries, instead of the usual 108, and after tickets for those seats have been issued at the door, remaining would-be spectators of

be turned away. Issue of tickets for the 70 seats will begin at 2:30 p.m.

Guests on Mr. Speaker's complimentary list must be in their places by 2:30 p.m., those on the "precedence" list a quarter of an hour later.

Ceremonies outside the buildings will begin at 2:46 p.m., on arrival of the Lieutenant-Governor and his aides from Government House.

While guns on Belleville Street fire a 15-gun salute, His Honor will inspect the guard of honor, consisting of detachments of the Royal Canadian Navy and The Canadian Scottish Regiment, then will proceed up the main steps between ranks of Boy Scouts to meet Premier Byron Johnson in the rotunda.

The official opening completed, Col. Banks will return to Government House, where the formal reception for members and their wives will begin at 4:30 p.m.

First of the two state dinners at Government House, for precedence list guests, will be held tomorrow a week later.

City Police Court

James Conley, who was convicted last week of stealing $60 from Lionel and Lindsay Dickson, proprietors of the Victoria Garage, Douglas Street, was again remanded when he appeared in court yesterday. Testimony regarding his previous character was given by his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Conley.

A fine of $40 was imposed upon William E. Baker when he pleaded guilty in city police court yesterday of dangerous driving on Pleasant Street on Saturday. Constable Robert Morris testified he saw the accused drive his automobile on the sidewalk for a distance of 40 to 50 feet. Persons on the sidewalk had to "scatter" to avoid being struck, he said. Baker's driver's licence was suspended for three months.

Charged with assaulting Constable Lorne Shandley, Patrick Dowdall was remanded until tomorrow for trial when he pleaded not guilty in city police court yesterday.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, March 1 (AP).—Grains made sharp advances on the Board of Trade today in active dealings.

Small marketings of feed grains by country interests, a surprisingly pessimistic Winter wheat crop report by the Santa Fe Railway and unconfirmed trade rumors that the production and marketing administration had re-entered the flour market spurred aggressive buying.

At one time May corn was up 5 cents, the daily limit. Gains in wheat ranged to more than 9 cents at times. Soybeans were ahead their 5-cent daily limit.

Wheat closed 5 3-4 to 9 1-2 higher, corn was 3 3-4 to 7 cents higher, and oats were 7-8 to 4 1-4 higher.

Company Institutes Court Proceedings

MONTREAL, March 1 (CP). — St. Lawrence Corporation, Ltd., a newsprint holding company, announced today it had instituted Superior Court proceedings to upset an order of Mr. Justice Louis Boyer who ruled against a plan of reorganization of part of the company's financial structure.

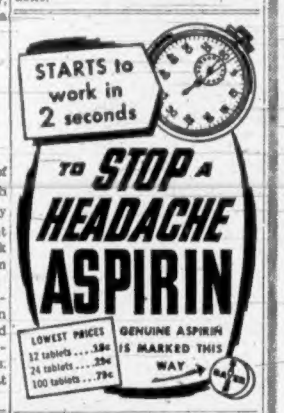

In upholding a contesting petition of Joseph Mayr of New York, Mr. Justice Boyer last January 27 stated that "insufficient, incorrect and misleading information was given to shareholders."

The company now is petitioning to have the order set aside on the grounds that "such order was made without jurisdiction and that the proceedings contain gross irregularities and there is reason to believe that justice has not been done."

Bird Shatters Meal Routine

The usual breakfast routine of the Harrison family, 298 Beach Drive, was disrupted yesterday morning when a hen pheasant crashed through the breakfast nook window, plunged about the room and then left the way it had come.

T. S. Harrison reported the uninvited guest scattered broken glass through the breakfast fare and generally spoiled the meal for Tommy and June, and their sister, Mrs. M. L. Norton, who were seated at the table.
